

2024 ECONOMICS 12 MACROECONOMICS ESSAYS (P1)

A. CIRCULAR FLOW

1. Discuss in detail the markets within the FOUR-SECTOR model. (28 marks)

INTRODUCTION

- ✓ Market is the mechanism that brings buyers and sellers together to exchange goods and services. ✓✓
- ✓ Markets coordinate economic activities and determine prices of goods and services. ✓✓

BODY

PRODUCT AND FACTOR MARKETS

Product market/Goods/Output markets ✓

- Product market is where goods and services are exchanged for money. ✓✓
- E.g. Shoprite retailer. ✓
- These are markets for consumer goods and services. ✓✓
- In economics a distinction is made between goods and services:
- Goods are defined as any tangible items such as clothing, food cars that satisfy human wants or need. ✓✓
- Capital and consumer goods are traded in these markets. ✓✓
- Capital goods market are trading buildings and machinery. ✓✓
- Consumer goods markets are trading durable consumer goods, semi-durable goods and non-durable goods. ✓✓
- Services are defined as non-tangible actions e.g. wholesalers and retailer, transport and financial markets. ✓✓

Factor market/Resource/Input markets ✓

- Factor market is where factors of production are traded. ✓✓ e.g. labour is hired and capital is borrowed. ✓✓
- Households sell factors of production in this market. ✓✓
- These services earn wages for labour, interest for capital, rent for natural resources and profits for entrepreneurship. ✓✓
- Labour can be bought and sold in this market. ✓✓
- Factor market includes labour, property and financial markets. ✓✓
  - ✓ Product markets and factor markets are related in the sense that the demand for factor services is a derived demand. ✓✓

Innovation in China William H.A. Johnson, 2015-07-22 The word innovation is often used today regarding China as if the concept were new to the Eastern country Most people know however that China was a juggernaut in creating new technologies and at one time was the innovation king of the world but that was at least seven centuries ago Today the great oriental power is attempting once again to take the throne of innovation for its own This desire to usurp the throne which had been diligently taken by the West during the Scientific Revolution has placed an almost unrealistic emphasis on innovation In Innovation in China The Tail of the Dragon the author explores the issues and actors involved in making innovation the emphasis in China He uses a simple systems model of innovation and various perceptual lenses The lenses are aimed at the historical economic political legal educational and cultural elements of an innovation based society After reading the book the reader will understand more about how innovation is happening in China and by whom More importantly the reader will begin a journey of learning more about where the country is going as it relentlessly continues its drive to create an innovation based society and to become once again in terms appropriate to its history the Emperor of Innovation

Reframing Finance Ashby Monk, Rajiv Sharma, Duncan L. Sinclair, 2017-08-08 Since the 2008 financial crisis beneficiary organizations like pension funds sovereign wealth funds endowments and foundations have been seeking ways to mitigate the risk of their investments and make better financial decisions For them Reframing Finance offers a path forward This book argues that institutional investors would better serve their long term goals by putting money into large scale future facing projects such as infrastructure green energy innovation in agriculture and real estate development At the same time redirecting long term investments would close significant financial gaps that government cannot Drawing on key contributions in economic sociology social network theory and economics the book conceptualizes a collaborative model of investment that is already becoming increasingly common Large investors contribute more directly to private market assets while financial intermediaries seek to foster co investment partnerships better aligning incentives for all A combination of rich case studies and rigorous theory enables asset owners to move toward more efficient private market investing while also laying groundwork for research at the frontier of finance

Young People and the Labour Market Floro Caroleo, Olga Demidova, Enrico Marelli, Marcello Signorelli, 2017-11-20 Young people are a vulnerable category of workers finding themselves in a delicate phase of their working life their first entry into the labour market In many European countries youngsters are unemployed or have difficulty finding and obtaining jobs This situation has deteriorated particularly after the crises recessions and stagnation that has impacted European economies in recent years In addition to the cyclical or crisis impact structural factors are also very important Additionally prolonged crises as in some Eurozone countries have transformed a significant part of cyclical unemployment in structural long term unemployment Young People and the Labour Market A Comparative Perspective explores the condition of young people in the labour market The authors present new evidence from several countries with a special focus on Europe and offer a comparative perspective They investigate questions such as which structural conditions and labour market institutions guarantee better youth performance which education systems and school to work processes are more effective and in which countries is gender differentiation less of an issue All of the aforementioned as well as many other comparisons which the authors make are significant in helping to facilitate the successful design of labour and education policies As the first investigation by economists to explore the complexity of this topic this book will be useful to both economists and sociologists who are interested in the role of young people in the labour market and the problem of youth unemployment

Public Policy in International Economic Law Diane Desierto, 2015-02-19 States reject inequality when they choose to ratify the International Covenant on Economic Social and Cultural Rights ICESCR but to date the ICESCR has not yet figured prominently in the policy calculus behind States international economic decisions This book responds to the modern challenge of operationalizing the ICESCR particularly in the context of States decisions within international trade finance and investment Differentiating between public policy mechanisms and institutional functional mandates in the international trade finance and investment systems this book shows legal and policy gateways for States to feasibly translate their fundamental duties to respect protect and fulfil economic social and cultural rights into their trade finance and investment commitments agreements and contracts It approaches the problem of harmonizing social protection objectives under the ICESCR with a State's international economic treaty obligations from the designing and interpreting international treaty texts up to the institutional monitoring and empirical analysis of ICESCR compliance In examining public policy options the book takes into account around five decades of States implementation of social protection commitments under the ICESCR its normative evolution through the UN Committee on Economic Social and Cultural Rights and the Committee's expanded fact finding and adjudicative competences under the Optional Protocol to the ICESCR as well as the critical dialectical and deliberative roles of diverse functional interpretive communities within international trade finance and investment law Ultimately the book shows how States ICESCR commitments operate as the normative foundation of their trade finance and investment decisions

Liberalised India, Politicised Middle Class and Software Professionals Anshu Srivastava, 2021-09-05 This volume explores the emergence evolution and definition of the middle class in India As a class created as the interpreters between the colonial rulers and the millions whom they governed in the pre Independence era the Indian middle class has existed in congruence with the state occupying vital positions in state administration Since Independence this middle class underwent major sociological change as they live independent of the state which affected their social economic and political position reaping benefits of liberalisation and globalisation through education and employment An otherwise internally differentiated and heterogeneous group the new Indian middle class often unifies itself to shape socio political discourse that affects politics and policymaking from domestic to international affairs This volume analyses this class phenomenon through a close study of a new metropolitan middle class in India the software professionals emblematic of the new India It discusses this emerging class as a political category and their engagements with the state democracy political parties issues of gender basic necessities and social justice Further it discusses their social action and middle class activism for issues such as environment cleanliness and corruption particularly highlighting its presence in the private sector and electronic media A fresh perspective on India's political milieu this volume will be of interest to scholars and researchers of sociology modern Indian history political science economics and South Asia studies

Economic Aspects of Genocides, Other Mass Atrocities, and Their Prevention Charles H. Anderton, Jurgén Brauer, 2016-05-09 Alongside other types of mass atrocities genocide has received extensive scholarly policy and practitioner attention Missing however is the contribution of economists to better understand and prevent such crimes This edited collection by 41 accomplished scholars examines economic aspects of genocides other mass atrocities and their prevention Chapters include numerous case studies e.g. California's Yana people Australia's Aborigines peoples Stalin's killing of Ukrainians Belarus the Holocaust Rwanda DR Congo Indonesia Pakistan Colombia Mexico's drug wars and the targeting of suspects during the Vietnam war probing literature reviews and completely novel work based on extraordinary country specific datasets Also included are chapters on the demographic gendered and economic class nature of genocide Replete with research and policy relevant findings new insights are derived from behavioral economics law and economics political economy macroeconomic modeling microeconomics development economics industrial organization identity economics and other fields Analytical approaches include constrained optimization theory game theory and sophisticated statistical work in data mining econometrics and forecasting A foremost finding of the book concerns atrocity architects purposeful strategic use of violence often manipulating nonrational proclivities among ordinary people to sway their participation in mass murder Relatively understudied in the literature the book also analyzes the options of victims before during and after mass violence Further the book shows how well intended prevention efforts can backfire and increase violence how wrong post genocide design can entrench vested interests to reinforce exclusion of vulnerable peoples and how businesses can become complicit in genocide In addition to the necessity of healthy opportunities in employment education and key sectors in prevention work the book shows why new genocide prevention laws and institutions must be based on reformulated incentives that consider insights from law and economics behavioral economics and collective action economics

Mohanty, 2016-01-29 This book evaluates the relevance of classical debates on agrarian transition and extends the horizon of contemporary debates in the Indian context linking national trends with regional experiences It identifies new dynamics in agrarian political economy and presents a comprehensive account of diverse aspects of capitalist transition both at theoretical and empirical levels The essays discuss several neglected domains in agricultural economics such as discursive dimensions of agrarian relations and limitations of stereotypical binaries between capital and non capital rural and urban sectors agriculture and industry and accumulation and subsistence With contributions from major scholars in the field this volume will be useful to scholars and researchers of agriculture economics political economy sociology rural development and development studies

Borderless Africa Francis Mangeni, Andrew Mold, 2024-04-18 The African Continental Free Trade Area established in 2018 represented a monumental step forward for Africa in terms of meeting longstanding aspirations for greater economic and political integration But it has nonetheless been met with scepticism in some quarters both within the continent and beyond Borderless Africa makes the case for the AfCFTA in an accessible and compelling way without shying away from technical and academic debates Francis Mangeni and Andrew Mold take us on a journey through the different dimensions and implications of the AfCFTA the largest free trade zone in the world starting with its underlying economic rationale Pointing to the numerous historical examples of successful regional integration they argue that the African continent will need to take on board such lessons as the agreement is implemented They discuss too the more controversial elements of the AfCFTA including the freedom of movement protocol contending that this should not be seen as an optional extra but as an intrinsic part of the accord Also exploring the role of external partners in the construction of an economically stronger more united Africa this fascinating study reveals how the AfCFTA is contributing to sustainable development across the continent addresses experiences of social mobility and the detailed processes through which entrenched intergenerationally transmitted privilege is reproduced. Contributions include but are not limited to family relationships students encounters with higher education narratives of work careers and mobility identities. The book intends to challenge both the framework of the more traditional approach and the politicisation of mobility which casts mobility as a possession a commodity or a character trait and threatens to castigate the non mobile as carrying a personal responsibility for their situation. This book presents critical analyses of routes into social mobility the experience of social mobility and the political and social implications of social mobility's panacea status. Drawing on the work of established scholars and more recent entrants the chapters offer a fresh look at social mobility opening up the topic to a wider readership among the profession and beyond and stimulating further debate. This book will appeal to higher level students and scholars of sociology alike as well as having a broad cross disciplinary appeal.

Routledge Handbook of Corruption in Asia Ting Gong, Ian Scott, 2016-11-25. Corruption in Asia ranges from the venal rent seeking of local officials to the million dollar bribes received by corrupt politicians from excessive position related consumption to future job offers in the private sector for compliant public servants from money laundering to white elephant projects that do little more than line the pockets of developers and their political partners. The Routledge Handbook of Corruption in Asia addresses the theories issues and trends in corruption and anticorruption reform that have emerged from this diverse experience. The book is divided into four major parts: corruption and the state; corruption and economic development; corruption and society; and controlling corruption: strategies, successes and failures. Chapters compare and contrast corruption in different social and institutional contexts, examine both successful and unsuccessful attempts to control it, and consider what lessons can be drawn from these Asian experiences. This academically rigorous and insightful book will be of interest to a wide range of students and scholars, particularly those of Asian studies, politics and sociology.

Generation Jobless? P. Vogel, 2015-03-05. Offering guidance on the opportunities and threats for future generations and featuring interviews with business leaders, this book provides a constructive look at change. It directs the youth to become job creators, not job seekers, and to approach the corporate and political worlds with an entrepreneurial mind set.

The Oxford Handbook of Industrial Policy Arkebe Oqubay, Christopher Cramer, Ha-Joon Chang, Richard Kozul-Wright, 2020-10-20. Industrial policy has long been regarded as a strategy to encourage sector, industry or economy wide development by the state. It has been central to competitiveness, catching up and structural change in both advanced and developing countries. It has also been one of the most contested perspectives, reflecting ideologically inflected debates and shifts in prevailing ideas. There has lately been a renewed interest in industrial policy in academic circles and international policy dialogues, prompted by the weak outcomes of policies pursued by many developing countries under the direction of the Washington Consensus and its descendants, the slow economic recovery of many advanced economies after the 2008 global financial crisis, and mounting anxieties about the national consequences of globalization. The Oxford Handbook of Industrial Policy presents a comprehensive review of and a novel approach to the conceptual and theoretical foundations of industrial policy The Handbook also presents analytical perspectives on how industrial policy connects to broader issues of development strategy macro economic policies infrastructure development human capital and political economy By combining historical and theoretical perspectives and integrating conceptual issues with empirical evidence drawn from advanced emerging and developing countries The Handbook offers valuable lessons and policy insights to policymakers practitioners and researchers on developing productive transformation technological capabilities and international competitiveness It addresses pressing issues including climate change the gendered dimensions of industrial policy global governance and technical change Written by leading international thinkers on the subject the volume pulls together different perspectives and schools of thought from neo classical to structuralist development economists to discuss and highlight the adaptation of industrial policy in an ever changing socio economic and political landscape
