and act as managers of educational funding and programs and is supported by administrators working in schools districts and regional offices A key understanding is that school is a student s place of work and current processes for evaluating and reporting their progress identifies them as the most accountable workers in our culture Taxpayers are better served when educators and government are held accountable by similar assessment processes Accountability is enhanced when power for selecting teachers and schools is shifted from administrators to parents and quantifiable information provides the basis for these decisions Ensuring that students have their learning assessed consistently guarantees fairness to students and provides critical information for parents and taxpayers Proven leadership strategies for ensuring accountability and superior levels of performance are presented for each administrative level Resources in Education ,1996 American Doctoral Dissertations ,1998 Resources in Education ,1996 50+ Years a Teacher!! Dr. Millicent Crisp Rainey,2021-02-24 50 Years a Teacher Lessons Learned A Memoir By Dr Millicent Crisp Rainey 50 Years a Teacher Lessons Learned A Memoir tells the wonderful story of stellar educator Dr Millicent Crisp Rainey and her journey from a young child with wonderful teachers to a trailblazer for women in education Rainey recounts her journey her experiences both positive and challenging to illustrate the life lessons she s learned in her 50 years as a teacher Igniting School Performance Vincent F. Cotter,2019-11-08 Igniting School Performance begins with a simple question What kind of school do you want for the children in your neighborhood town city or county While the question is a good starting point other questions such as Are you willing to make a commitment so that all schools are high performing How do you define high performing and How might that goal be accomplished are equally important From the outset of this text there is a focus on involving all stakeholders in the process of improving student achievement and providing an inclusive leadership approach that breaks the internal paralysis or ineptness which contributes to the ongoing status quo of underachievement in far too many schools Stakeholders such as board members might declare that they are interested in schools that serve their community Superintendents might focus on schools that create individuals with the desire to be life long learners Teachers might indicate that schools are a place where children learn Parents may simply express that they want the schools to be good Further qualifying each of these responses may also yield descriptions of schools that are very different from those previously described Recruiting and Selecting Principals in an Era of Accountability Melissa T. M. Thompson,2008 The Teaching Instinct Kip T  llez,2016-03-17 How we select prepare and support teachers has become a surprisingly common topic among journalists politicians and policymakers Contemporary recommendations on teaching and teachers whatever their intentions fail to assess this deeply human activity from its historical roots In The Teaching Instinct Explorations Into What Makes Us Human Kip T  llez invites us to reappraise teaching through a wide lens and argues that our capacity to teach is one part culture two parts genetic By rescuing the field of instinct psychology from the margins this challenging book explores topics as diverse as teaching in other species teaching across human cultures and the development of teaching in young children finally drawing readers into a discussion about how our teaching instinct influences modern teacher learning selection and preparation Drawing on disciplines as diverse as comparative biology evolutionary psychology and teacher education policy T llez warns us that ignoring or contradicting our teaching instinct results in unhappy teachers and dysfunctional school systems
