Ecotheology Levente Hufnagel, 2023-01-11 Ecotheology Sustainability and Religions of the World gives a very interesting overview of the frontiers of scientific research in this important multi and transdisciplinary area. Its chapters use ecotheological approaches to discuss the multiple aspects of an environmental crisis from almost every segment of our planet. This book will be very useful for everyone: researchers, teachers, students or others interested in the field who would like to gain some insights into this aspect of our culture. A Collection of the Public Papers and Addresses, 1886-1892 Andrew Sloan Draper, 1892

Education and climate change Samantha Govender, Mncedisi C Maphalala, Dumisani W. Mncube, 2025-06-15 The book highlights the critical yet often overlooked role of education in combating climate change. It advocates for a transformative educational framework that integrates social emotional learning and interdisciplinary collaboration. Traditional education which focuses solely on factual knowledge is deemed insufficient. Instead, education should foster empathy, provide hands-on experiences and encourage active engagement in climate solutions. The book outlines various ways education can drive climate action such as raising awareness, preparing individuals for green jobs, empowering communities and fostering innovation in higher education. It highlights the interconnectedness of climate change and education particularly for marginalised populations showing how quality education can enhance both mitigation and adaptation strategies while supporting Sustainable Development Goal SDG 4 and SDG 13. Key chapters discuss successful initiatives such as the Keep it Cool Climate Change Education KIC CCE project in South Africa and offer strategies for integrating climate change education into subjects like Natural Sciences and Geography. Ultimately, the book positions education as a strategic tool for promoting sustainable development and building climate resilience. New research findings presented in the book connect education to climate change, highlighting education as both a tool to address climate issues and a domain affected by these issues. The book integrates empirical evidence, innovative theories and practical examples to ensure intellectual integrity and academic rigour. It introduces a unique framework that emphasises social emotional learning, action-oriented teaching and interdisciplinary collaboration. Case studies such as the KIC CCE initiative in South Africa illustrate these concepts. The book critiques traditional models and advocates for transformative approaches to climate education aligning with SDG 4 Quality Education and SDG 13 Climate Action. It also highlights the significance of teacher preparedness, community empowerment, gender equality and innovation, providing valuable insights for scholars, policymakers and practitioners addressing the climate crisis. Report of the State Superintendent New York (State). Department of Public Instruction, 1892

From GCSEs to EBCs Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons. Education Committee, 2013 The Government's plans for replacing GCSEs with new English Baccalaureate Certificates in some subjects is trying to do too much too fast. Introducing several fundamental changes at the same time and to a tight timetable will jeopardise the quality of the reforms and may threaten the stability of the wider exam system. GCSEs need significant improvements in order to restore public confidence in the exam system but the Government still needs to make the case that the GCSE brand is so discredited that it is beyond repair MPs are also concerned about the impact of the changes on subjects outside the English Baccalaureate where students will be taking GCSEs for some time to come according to the Government's plans The report also questions how well the Government's proposals will serve lower attaining pupils who are often the most disadvantaged There is no evidence that the proposed changes will help to tackle under achievement or narrow the attainment gap between the richest and poorest students any more effectively than GCSEs The Government is also called upon to re think its plans for a Statement of Achievement specifically for lower attaining pupils MPs agree that changes are needed to the way in which exams are run but they raise serious concerns about franchising subjects to exam boards The report is critical of the Government's decision to abolish some GCSEs before publishing the outcomes of the National Curriculum Review and its proposed changes to the school accountability system MPs also note the wide ranging stakeholder opposition to many of the Government's proposals
