Arbiters of Race Erik T. Withers,David L. Brunσμα,2025-11-13 Advancing the conversation on cultural intermediation by adding the muchoverlooked reality of racism this edited collection offers a much needed critical and contemporary focus on the ever changing landscape of race in the marketplace Arbiters of Race Cultural Intermediaries Racism and Consumer Industries addresses the pressing need in the third decade of the 21st century to push social theory to incorporate race and racism in our understanding of cultural intermediation to recognize that cultural intermediaries play a crucial role in framing goods services ideas and behaviors as legitimate and worthy instilling goods with meanings by engaging in specific cultural narratives that have a fundamentally racial character of consumer industries Having changed dramatically since the 1980s and 1990s cultural and creative markets have become unrecognizable such that cultural intermediaries today manipulate social and cultural tastes as actors in the consumer market to construct value and meaning for products practices and consumers particularly in the cultural and creative industries The essays in this collection acknowledge the very real risk of reproducing the very racist structures these markets and industries were founded on and go beyond past work on cultural intermediaries to challenge the exclusionary racial structures within which cultural markets historically and currently operate

Alcoholic drinks and mixtures made from natural ingredients ,2024-04-04 This book is about brewing in general not just making beer but having fun fermenting all kinds of delicious concoctions with whatever we find on offer from nature be that the wilderness or our backyards or gardens We re talking odd wild and primitive beers sodas herbal meads inebriating or not infusions and many other types of fermented drinks that are sometimes hard to classify It s about exploring boozy possibilities in creative ways the way humans have for a very long time What s not to like about that My big discovery when working on this book was the fact that brewing is really a continuous linear activity We like to chop up this creative line into small discrete segments and impose etiquettes on them That s a beer that s a wine or that s a soda But the truth is that humans since the dawn of time have been brewing boozy concoctions that often transcend regular labels You ll find all kinds of interesting drinks that are really a blend between beers and wines or sodas and beers And it s all good Brewing should be about creativity flavors and in some cases medicinal applications Like many enjoyable activities it s a lot less fun when you re told what you can or cannot do It s an interesting statement for an author to make but I would like you to look at this book not in terms of precise recipes you can make at home but more as a book of concepts and ideas that will enable you to explore and create with your own local ingredients The fun is really in dreaming up and brewing your own delicious drinks so look at the techniques described here and see what you can come up with If there is an overall message I want to convey it is that brewing is fun adventurous and extremely rewarding Don t be afraid to experiment You might make a few mistakes here and there mostly in the beginning but those will be dwarfed by the countless yummy drinks you ll create and be successful at making Hopefully the basic procedures in this book will help and I can t wait to hear about the delicious beverages you ll make with the plants surrounding you If you already have experience in making beers you may find some of the methods described here a bit primitive and unusual the use of molasses and other sources of sugar including insect honeydew instead of malt wild yeast extraction from local fruits flowers and plants unusual bitter wild plants instead of regular hops and the overall lack of grains I hope this book will nevertheless inspire you to explore your own terroir and possibly integrate some local flavors into your brews The most important message from this book is really Explore have fun and create That s the stuff life should be made of

Fermentation Biotechnology for Functional Foods Kalidas Shetty, Lena Gálvez Ranilla, 2025-10-31. Fermentation-based processing advanced with global food systems as humanity started to organize the domestication of agriculture from plant and animal sources. These advances emerged across regions of the world from river valley civilizations in Asia, Mesopotamia, India, and China, and Africa, Egypt, to Meso American civilizations. As food crops and animal foods emerged from domestication to advancements in post-harvest processing, stages of growth of invisible microbial systems led to modified foods that aligned with local palates of the communities. This, in several cases, became part of food systems as it added a mode of preservation and improved the food quality that was preferred by each community. This is how the early genesis of fermented foods from grains, fruits, and vegetables to animal meats and milk products became an integral part of early civilizations over 4000 years ago and has now carried over and further developed across many countries in every region of the world. The foundations of these food fermentations are now an integral part of modern food advances as preferred food substrates and the microbial interactions that drive the metabolic processes in defined food matrixes are being scientifically advanced. This book focuses on bringing together diverse emergences and advancements of fermented foods across different regions of the world and how the metabolic processes associated with fermentation in several cases add health-relevant functional qualities across different food matrixes. This book contains 26 chapters from the Americas, Africa, Europe, and Asia, bringing together the fermentation processes of diverse food substrates and their microbial processing and, in several cases, providing health-targeted functional benefits. Key Features: Discusses the rationale and basis of fermented food systems from across 26 diverse regions of the world with examples from the Americas, Asia, Europe, and Africa. Presents historical plant and animal food substrates and the metabolic processes of their fermentation across traditions of a range of countries. Covers traditional food fermentations across diverse food substrates that have potentially health-relevant functional benefits. Reflects and presents the role of historical, cultural, and traditional food concepts of a diverse range of countries with many novel examples and how they have influenced health-relevant functional benefits. Discusses the relevance of metabolic concepts of fermented and functional foods in advancing healthy
