

In Spring 2023, CCSF will offer 4 sections of MATH 115. For simplicity, assume that each section has a strict 35 student capacity. There a certain number (to be considered below) of students that need to take MATH 115 and we know that each student says that at least 2 of the 4 sections will work for their schedule. Since you are finished with MATH 115, you are tasked with trying to address this scheduling problem.

- (a) Define a bipartite graph model to address this scheduling problem. Be sure to specify what the vertices are and how the edges are defined.
- (b) With 4 sections, there are 140 spots available for MATH 115 in the Spring semester. Does this mean that CCSF can guarantee a section for 71 students based on the fact that at least 2 of the 4 sections work for their schedule? Provide a yes/no response.
- (c) What is the maximum number of students, with the understanding that at least 2 of the 4 sections work for their schedule, that CCSF can guarantee that they will be able to register for a section of MATH 115 in Spring 2023? (A number response is acceptable, and an explanation would be used for the consideration of partial credit in case you are incorrect.)
