Dream Town Laura Meckler, 2023-08-22 Winner of the Ohio Book Award Finalist of the Malott Prize for Recording Community Activism Can a group of well intentioned people fulfill the promise of racial integration in America In this searing and intimate examination of the ideals and realities of racial integration award winning Washington Post journalist Laura Meckler tells the story of a decades long pursuit in Shaker Heights Ohio and uncovers the roadblocks that have threatened progress time and again in housing in education and in the promise of shared community In the late 1950s Shaker Heights began groundbreaking work that would make it a national model for housing integration And beginning in the seventies it was known as a crown jewel in the national move to racially integrate schools The school district built a reputation for academic excellence and diversity serving as a model for how white and Black Americans can thrive together Meckler herself a product of Shaker Heights takes a deeper look into the place that shaped her investigating its complicated history and its ongoing challenges in order to untangle myth from truth She confronts an enduring and troubling question if Shaker Heights has worked so hard at racial equity why does a racial academic achievement gap persist In telling the stories of the Shakerites who have built and lived in this community Meckler asks What will it take to fulfill the promise of racial integration in America What compromises are people of all races willing to make What does success look like and has Shaker achieved it The result is a complex and masterfully reported portrait of a place that while never perfect has achieved more than most and a road map for communities that seek to do the same Includes black and white images Discover

Epilogue Life in the Age of Drone Warfare Lisa Parks, Caren Kaplan, 2017-10-19 This volume's contributors offer a new critical language through which to explore and assess the historical juridical geopolitical and cultural dimensions of drone technology and warfare. They show how drones generate particular ways of visualizing the spaces and targets of war while acting as tools to exercise state power. Essays include discussions of the legal justifications of extrajudicial killings and how US drone strikes in the Horn of Africa impact life on the ground as well as a personal narrative of a former drone operator. The contributors also explore drone warfare in relation to sovereignty governance and social difference, provide accounts of the relationships between drone technologies and modes of perception and mediation, and theorize drones' relation to biopolitics, robotics, automation, and art. Interdisciplinary and timely. Life in the Age of Drone Warfare extends the critical study of drones while expanding the public discussion of one of our era's most ubiquitous instruments of war. Contributors: Peter Asaro, Brandon Wayne Bryant, Katherine Chandler, Jordan Crandall, Ricardo Dominguez, Derek Gregory, Inderpal Grewal, Lisa Hajjar, Caren Kaplan, Andrea Miller, Anjali Nath, Jeremy Packer, Lisa Parks, Joshua Reeves, Thomas Stubblefield, Madiha Tahir. Official Gazette of the United States Patent and Trademark Office, 1999 After the Education Wars Andrea Gabor, 2018-06-12 The education wars have been demoralizing for teachers. After the Education Wars helps us to see a better way forward. Cathy N. Davidson, The New York Times Book Review. After the Education Wars is an important book that points the way to genuine reform. Diane Ravitch, author of Reign of Error and The Death and Life of the Great American School System. A bestselling business journalist critiques the top-down approach of popular education reforms and profiles the unexpected success of schools embracing a nimbler, more democratic entrepreneurialism. In an entirely fresh take on school reform, business journalist and bestselling author Andrea Gabor argues that Bill Gates, Eli Broad, and other leaders of the prevailing education reform movement have borrowed all the wrong lessons from the business world. After the Education Wars explains how the market-based measures and carrot-and-stick incentives informing today's reforms are out of sync with the nurturing culture that good schools foster and contrary to popular belief at odds with the best practices of thriving twenty-first-century companies as well. These rich, detailed stories of real reform in action illustrate how enduring change must be deeply collaborative and relentlessly focused on improvement from the grass roots up. Lessons also learned from both the open-source software and quality movements. The good news is that solutions born of this philosophy are all around us from Brockton, Massachusetts, where the state's once-failing largest high school now sends most graduates to college, to

Leander Texas a large district where school improvement spurred by the ideas of quality guru W Edwards Deming has become a way of life A welcome exception to the doom and gloom canon of education reform After the Education Wars makes clear that what s needed is not more grand ideas but practical and informed ways to grow the best ones that are already transforming schools Long-Range Dependent Processes: Theory and Applications Ming Li, Carlo Cattani, 2022-12-05

one percent 71% of Nigerias population still living below poverty line This is in spite of the billions of petrodollars that Nigeria garnered as revenue over the past few decades It reveals that one does not need to be a political prophet to predict that if these challenges are not successfully addressed through good governance and inclusive growth this country will witness the worst civil disobedience violence revolts militancy breakdown of law and order more kidnappings and more of the citizens trying to check out of the country to other parts of the world in future It concludes however that under such intense pressures the Government of Nigeria even if it is simply for its self preservation will be forced by the objective conditions to move against the interests of the dominant groups and classes in Nigeria These are the ones who have for long captured and hijacked state power and the resources of the country for their exclusive use
