Answer: I would be disappointed. The drawing shows several features characteristic of a catfish, but it is not a catfish. The catfish has a long, slender body, a pointed snout, and a large, prominent eye. The drawing shows a fish with a more rounded body, a shorter snout, and a smaller eye. The drawing also shows a fish with a more elongated body, a longer snout, and a larger eye. The drawing is a composite of several different fish species, and it is not a single, coherent drawing of a single fish species.
