Since Beckett Peter Boxall, 2009-07-10 A fascinating study of Beckett s legacy for contemporary writers which is part of the growing interest in Beckett studies in the question of Beckett s reception and influence

New Approaches to the Twenty-First-Century Anglophone Novel Sibylle Baumbach, Birgit Neumann, 2019-12-20 This book discusses the complex ways in which the novel offers a vibrant arena for critically engaging with our contemporary world and scrutinises the genre s political ethical and aesthetic value Far reaching cultural political and technological changes during the past two decades have created new contexts for the novel which have yet to be accounted for in literary studies Addressing the need for fresh transdisciplinary approaches that explore these developments the book focuses on the multifaceted responses of the novel to key global challenges including migration and cosmopolitanism posthumanism and ecosickness human and animal rights affect and biopolitics human cognition and anxieties of inattention and the transculturality of terror By doing so it testifies to the ongoing cultural relevance of the genre Lastly it examines a range of 21st century Anglophone novels to encourage new critical discourses in literary studies

American Popular Culture in the Era of Terror Jesse Kavadlo, 2015-09-15 Bringing together the most popular genres of the 21st century this book argues that Americans have entered a new era of narrative dominated by the fear and wish fulfillment of the breakdown of authority and terror itself Bringing together disparate and popular genres of the 21st century American Popular Culture in the Era of Terror Falling Skies Dark Knights Rising and Collapsing Cultures argues that popular culture has been preoccupied by fantasies and narratives dominated by the anxiety and strangely the wish fulfillment that comes from the breakdowns of morality family law and order and storytelling itself From aging superheroes to young adult dystopias heroic killers to lustrious vampires the figures of our fiction film and television again and again reveal and revel in the imagery of terror Kavadlo s single author thesis driven book makes the case that many of the novels and films about September 11 2001 have been about much more than terrorism alone while popular stories that may not seem related to September 11 are deeply connected to it The book examines New York novels written in response to September 11 along with the anti heroes of television and the resurgence of zombies and vampires in film and fiction to draw a correlation between Kavadlo s Era of Terror and the events of September 11 2001 Geared toward college students graduate students and academics interested in popular culture the book connects multiple topics to appeal to a wide audience

Transatlantic Literature and Culture After 9/11 K. Miller, 2014-09-23 Transatlantic Literature and Culture After 9 11 asks whether post 9 11 America has chosen the wrong side of paradise by waging war on terror rather than working for global peace Analyzing transatlantic literature and culture the book refocuses our view of Ground Zero through the lenses of imperial power and cosmopolitan exchange

Cultural Melancholia: US Trauma Discourses Before and After 9/11 Christina Cavedon, 2015-09-01 In Cultural Melancholia US Trauma Discourses Before and After 9 11 Christina Cavedon frames her examination of 9 11 fiction especially Jay McInerney s The Good Life and Don DeLillo s Falling Man with a thorough discussion of what US reactions to the terrorist attacks of September 11 2001 disclose about American culture Offering a comparative reading of pre and post 9 11 literary public and academic discourses she deconstructs the still commonly held belief that cultural repercussions of the attacks primarily testify to a cultural trauma in the wake of the collectively witnessed media event She innovatively re interprets discourses to be symptomatic of a malaise which had afflicted American culture already prior to 9 11 and can best be approached with melancholia as an analytical concept

Literature and Terrorism , 2012-01-01 The years following the attacks of September 11 2001 have seen the publication of a wide range of scientific analyses of terrorism Literary studies seem to lag curiously behind this general shift of academic interest The present volume sets out to fill this gap It does so in the conviction that the study of literature has much to offer to the transdisciplinary investigation of terror not only with respect to the present post 9 11 situation but also with respect to earlier historical contexts Literary texts are media of cultural self reflection and as such they have always played a crucial role in the discursive response to terror both contributing to and resisting dominant conceptions of the causes motivations dynamics and aftermath of terrorist violence By bringing together experts from various fields and by combining case studies of works from diverse periods and national literatures the volume Literature and Terrorism chooses a diachronic and comparative perspective It is interested in the specific cultural work performed by narrative and dramatic literature in the face of terrorism focusing on literature's ambivalent relationship to other competing modes of discourse

The Male Body in Medicine and Literature Andrew Mangham, Daniel Lea, 2018-05-01 With the dawn of modern medicine there emerged a complex range of languages and methodologies for portraying the male body as prone to illness injury and dysfunction Using a variety of historical and literary approaches this collection explores how medicine has interacted with key moments in literature and culture

Towering Figures Sven Cvek, 2011-01-01 This volume offers a critical analysis of a segment of American literary production surrounding the September 11 2001 attacks on the United States While focusing on the writing of Jonathan Safran Foer Art Spiegelman Don DeLillo and Thomas Pynchon the author locates this work within a larger 9 11 cultural archive The book proceeds by way of a series of thematic leaps in order to unearth the active entanglement of the event with systems of meaning and power that create the conditions for its emergence and understanding The main problem of such an approach consists in articulating the three fold relation at the heart of the archive in which issues of traumatic loss affect and politics appear as central between the historical event its cultural imprint and the wider social system In order to grasp these fundamental relations the author resorts to a layered interpretive framework and engages a number of theoretical protocols from psychoanalysis and nationalism studies to philosophy of history world system theory and the heterogeneous critical practices of American Studies Coming from a non US Americanist perspective this contribution to the scholarly production about 9 11 concentrates on trauma as a problem in the conceptualization the event insists on globalization as its crucial context and argues for a historical materialist approach to the 9 11 archive

Critical Methods in Terrorism Studies

Priya Dixit, Jacob L. Stump, 2015-06-26 This book shows how to use a range of critical approaches to conduct research on terrorism Featuring the work of researchers who have already utilized these methods to study terrorism it includes a diverse range of critical methodological approaches including discourse analysis feminist postcolonial ethnographic critical theory and visual analysis of terrorism The main objectives of the book are to assist researchers in adopting and applying various critical approaches to the study of terrorism This goal is achieved by bringing together a number of different scholars working on the topic of terrorism from a range of non variables based approaches Their individual chapters discuss explicitly the research methods used and methodological commitments made by the authors while also illustrating the application of their particular critical perspective to the topic of terrorism The authors of each chapter will discuss 1 why they chose their specific critical method 2 how they justified their methodological stance 3 how they conduct their research 4 and finally an example of the research This book will be essential reading for students of terrorism studies and critical terrorism studies and highly recommended for students of political violence security studies and IR

The Prestige of Violence Sally Bachner, 2011 In The Prestige of Violence Sally Bachner argues that starting in the 1960s American fiction laid claim to the status of serious literature by placing violence at the heart of its mission and then insisting that this violence could not be represented. Bachner demonstrates how many of the most influential novels of this period are united by the dramatic opposition they draw between a debased and untrustworthy conventional language on the one hand and a violence that appears to be prelinguistic and unquestionable on the other. Genocide, terrorism, war, torture, slavery, rape, and murder are major themes, yet the writers insist that such events are unspeakable. Bachner takes issue with the claim made within trauma studies that history is the site of violent trauma inaccessible to ordinary representation. Instead, she argues, both trauma studies and the fiction to which it responds institutionalize an inability to address violence. Examining such works as Vladimir Nabokov's Pale Fire, Thomas Pynchon's The Crying of Lot 49, Norman Mailer's Armies of the Night, Margaret Atwood's Surfacing, and Philip Roth's The Plot Against America, Bachner locates the postwar prestige of violence in the disjunction between the privileged security of wealthier Americans and the violence perpetrated by the United States abroad. The literary investment in unspeakable and often immaterial violence emerges in Bachner's readings as a complex and ideologically varied literary solution to the political geography of violence in our time.

Multimodal Stylistics of the Novel Nina Nørgaard, 2018-10-08. This book advocates for a new analytical framework that extends our understanding of multimodal meaning making in the novel. Integrating theoretical traditions from stylistics and the influential social semiotic approach to multimodal communication developed by Kress and van Leeuwen, Nørgaard applies this method of analysis in order to build on existing stylistic practices that look at linguistic features in the novel to encompass other semiotic resources found in the form, such as typography, layout, images, paper, and book cover design. The volume grounds the discussion with supporting examples from novels that feature experimentation with multiple semiotic resources as well as more traditional novels, furthering the argument that all novels are inherently multimodal. Offering new insights and tools for unpacking multimodal meaning making in this critical literary genre, this volume is an indispensable resource for graduate students and researchers in multimodality, stylistics, and literary studies.

A Poetics of Trauma after 9/11 Katharina Donn, 2016-10-04. The 9/11 attacks brought large-scale violence into the 21st century with force and have come to epitomize the entanglement of intimate vulnerability and virtual spectacle that is typical of the globalized present. This book works at the intersection of trauma studies, affect theory, and literary studies to offer radically new interpretive frames for interrogating the challenges inherent in representing the initial moments of the terrorist encounter. Beyond the paradigm of traumatic unspeakability, post-9/11 texts expose the materiality of the human body in its universal vulnerability. The intersubjective empathy this engenders is politically subversive as it undermines the discourse of historical singularity and exceptionalism by establishing a global network of reference and dialogue. Innovative theoretical interconnections between clinical pathology, concepts of cultural trauma, and political aesthetics lay the foundations for exploring formally and geographically diverse texts. Close readings of works by Jonathan Safran Foer, Art Spiegelman, Don DeLillo, and William Gibson map the relationship between representations of 9 11 and complex aspects of trauma theory This detailed approach makes a case for revisiting trauma theory and bringing its Freudian origins into the digitized present It showcases trauma as a physical and psychological wound as well as an experience that is simultaneously pre discursive and inhibited by the virtuality of the present day real Exploring how contemporary trauma studies can take into account the digitization and virtuality of present day realities this book is a key intervention in establishing a contemporary ethics of witnessing terror Plotting Justice Georgiana Banita,2012-10-01 Have the terrorist attacks of September 11 shifted the moral coordinates of contemporary fiction And how might such a shift reflected in narrative strategies and forms relate to other themes and trends emerging with the globalization of literature This book pursues these questions through works written in the wake of 9 11 and examines the complex intersection of ethics and narrative that has defined a significant portion of British and American fiction over the past decade Don DeLillo Pat Barker Aleksandar Hemon Lorraine Adams Michael Cunningham and Patrick McGrath are among the authors Georgiana Banita considers Their work illustrates how post 9 11 literature expresses an ethics of equivocation in formal elements of narrative in a complex scrutiny of justice and in tense dialogues linking this fiction with the larger political landscape of the era Through a broad historical and cultural lens Plotting Justice reveals links between the narrative ethics of post 9 11 fiction and events preceding and following the terrorist attacks events that defined the last half of the twentieth century from the Holocaust to the Balkan War and those that 9 11 precipitated from war in Afghanistan to the Abu Ghraib scandal Challenging the rhetoric of the war on terror the book honors the capacity of literature to articulate ambiguous forms of resistance in ways that reconfigure the imperatives and responsibilities of narrative for the twenty first century Death in American Texts and Performances Mark Pizzato,2016-05-13 How do twentieth and twenty first century artists bring forth the powerful reality of death when it exists in memory and lived experience as something that happens only to others Death in American Texts and Performances takes up this question to explore the modern and postmodern aesthetics of death Working between and across genres the contributors examine literary texts and performance media including Robert Lowell s For the Union Dead Luis Valdez Dark Root of a Scream Amiri Baraka s Dutchman Thornton Wilder s Our Town John Edgar Wideman s The Cattle Killing Toni Morrison s Sula and Song of Solomon Don DeLillo s White Noise and Falling Man and HBO s Six Feet Under As the contributors struggle to convey the artist s crisis of representation they often locate the dilemma in the gap between artifice and nature where loss is performed and where re membering is sometimes literally reenacted through the bodily gesture While artists confront the impossibility of total recovery or transformation so must the contributors explore the gulf between real corpses and their literary or performative reconstructions Ultimately the volume shows both artist and critic grappling with the dilemma of showing how the aesthetics of death as absence is made meaningful in and by language Terrorism, Media, and the Ethics of Fiction Peter Schneck,Philipp Schweighauser,2010-08-19 In his novel Mao II Don DeLillo lets his protagonist say Years ago I used to think it was possible for a novelist to alter the inner life of the culture Now bomb makers and gunmen have taken that territory They make raids on human consciousness DeLillo suggests that while the collective imagination of the past was guided by the creative order of narrative fictions our contemporary fantasies and anxieties are directed by the endless narratives of war and terror relayed by the mass media To take DeLillo s literary reflections on media terrorism and literature seriously means to engage with the ethical implications of his media critique This book departs from existing works on DeLillo not only through its focus on the function of literature as public discourse in culture but also in its decidedly transatlantic perspective Bringing together prominent DeLillo scholars in Europe and in the US it is the first critical book on DeLillo to position his work in a transatlantic context

Understanding Barthes, Understanding Modernism Jeffrey R. Di Leo, Zahi Zalloua, 2022-07-14 Understanding Barthes Understanding Modernism is a general assessment of the modern literary and philosophical contributions of Roland Barthes The first part of the volume focuses on work published prior to Barthes s death in 1980 covering the major periods of his development from Writing Degree Zero 1953 to Camera Lucida Reflections on Photography 1980 The second part focuses both on the posthumously published material and the legacies of his work after his death in 1980 This later work has attracted attention for example in conjunction with notions of the neutral gay writing and critiques of everyday life The third part is devoted to some of the critical vocabulary of Barthes in both the work he published during his lifetime and that which was published posthumously

Outlaws and Spies Conor McCarthy, 2020-03-18 Conor McCarthy shows how outlaw literature and espionage literature critique the use of legal exclusion as a means of supporting state power Texts discussed range from the medieval Robin Hood ballads Shakespeare s history plays and the Ned Kelly story to John le Carr Don DeLillo Ciaran Carson and William Gibson

Twenty-First Century Fictions of Terrorism Arin Keeble, 2024-05-31 Examining novels by celebrated authors some neglected and some brand new texts Arin Keeble offers a detailed analysis of the ways novels from around the world have represented terrorism in the early twenty first century Over five chapters he uncovers a movement away from event based narratives toward depictions of terrorism as a violent symptom or feature of twenty first century world systems and neoliberalism Beginning with the early literary response to 9 11 and the 9 11 novel genre the book moves through more recent depictions of the endless war on terror state terror white nationalist terror and historical narratives of terror that resonate in the current political climate In doing so it examines the changing ways literature has sought to make sense of both the reasons why terrorism occurs and the effects it has on victims survivors and international and intercultural relations
