

Applications of Area, Length and Distance

1. A sector of a circle is a region of the circle bounded by a central angle and the corresponding arc.

2. In proportional relationships, such as those in the central angle bounding the sector and the complete circle, there have previously been several situations that could be written as  $\frac{\text{arc length}}{\text{circumference}} = \frac{\text{central angle}}{360}$  or  $\frac{\text{arc length}}{\text{radius}} = \frac{\text{central angle}}{1}$  in radians. This form of the relationship for arc length of a circle of radius  $r$  is given below.

$$\text{Arc Length} = \frac{r}{360} (\text{degrees of rotation})$$

- Another way to find arc length is to think about, just as, other relationships. As you collected data for your table in the previous activity, you discovered that arc length is directly a function of the circle's circumference, which has been expressed in terms of  $\pi$ . This relationship can be summarized proportionally as circle of any given radius,  $r$ , is written

$$\frac{\text{Arc Length}}{C} = \frac{\text{Degrees of Rotation}}{360}$$

- Similarly, you discovered a function that could be written as the arc length is a central angle in an angle of measure of degrees of radius  $r$ .

$$\text{Arc Length for Length of Rotation} = \frac{r}{360} (\text{degrees of rotation})$$

- As you collected data for your table in the previous activity, you discovered that, the arc length, area of a sector (or area swept) is proportional to the circle's circumference and has been expressed in terms of  $\pi$ . This relationship is summarized proportionally for a circle of any given radius,  $r$ , as

$$\frac{\text{Area of Sector}}{A} = \frac{\text{Degrees of Rotation}}{360}$$

- Example: (Based on the example from the activity.)

1. If the radius of a circle is 10 units and the angle is 60 degrees, find the arc length and area of the sector.
