Close Writing Paula Bourque, 2023-10-10 How closely do your students read their writing What are the implications for those who do and those who don't During her work in classrooms literacy coach Paula Bourque noticed that students who read their own writing closely are engaged in their work write fluently are able to produce lengthy drafts and incorporate teaching points from mini lessons into the day's writing In this comprehensive book Paula shows you that no matter what structures or lessons you use in your writing classroom the strategies in Close Writing will help you make these better by creating student writers who are more aware of what effective writing looks like who care about what they write and who take ownership and responsibility for their growth as writers Paula argues that a key element in close writing is learning to look and looking to learn by closely reading our own writing Instead of focusing on the mechanics of their writing she encourages students to read their words for understanding clarity and the effect they will have on an audience She urges them to recognize their habits and their approaches to writing and to build upon them Close Writing is based on research and methods that are reliable and valid best practices but it will not prescribe lessons or structures It gives you a peek inside classrooms where teachers just like you are working with budding authors just like yours Paula also provides considerations for ELL writers as well as a section of interviews with authors She shares an extensive reference resource guide and a companion website with students work samples reproducibles and templates and videos of classroom writing lessons round out this must have resource

Lynn Erickson,Lois A. Lanning,Rachel French,2017-02-02 Think Beyond the Facts Knowing the facts is not enough If we want students to develop intellectually creatively problem solve and grapple with complexity the key is in conceptual understanding A Concept Based curriculum recaptures students innate curiosity about the world and provides the thrilling feeling of engaging one's mind. This updated edition introduces the newest thought leadership in Concept Based Curriculum and Instruction. Educators will learn how to meet the demands of rigorous academic standards. Use the Structure of Knowledge and Process when designing disciplinary units. Engage students in inquiry through inductive teaching. Identify conceptual lenses and craft quality generalizations. Explore deeper levels of learning and become a Master Concept Based Teacher. This book is smart, wise, and energizing. It honors the disciplines we teach by reminding us of their inherent meaning. It honors teachers with the belief that they grow as human beings through understanding the power of what they teach. It honors students by expecting them to become thinkers capable of reasoned stewardship of the world they live in and will inherit. Carol Ann Tomlinson, William Clay Parrish Jr., Professor, University of Virginia Curry School of Education. As factual and procedural knowledge are a click away, education needs to foster contextualization and higher order thinking through a focus on transferable conceptual understandings. This essential book translates the needed sophistication of concept based learning into actionable classroom practices. Charles Fadel, Author of Four Dimensional Education and 21st Century Skills, Founder, Center for Curriculum Redesign, Visiting Scholar, Harvard Graduate School of Education. Hydropower Efficiency, Grade 4 Carla C. Johnson, Janet B. Walton, Erin Peters-Burton, 2024-04-22. What if you could challenge your fourth graders to create a minimally invasive, highly efficient dam? With this volume in the STEM Road Map Curriculum Series, you can. Hydropower Efficiency outlines a journey that will steer your students toward authentic problem solving while grounding them in integrated STEM disciplines. Like the other volumes in the series, this book is designed to meet the growing need to infuse real world learning into K-12 classrooms. This interdisciplinary four lesson module uses project and problem based learning to help students create a highly efficient dam that has a minimal impact on the environment. Students will explore the use of natural resources to provide energy needs, specifically hydropower, while exploring the workings of watermills, wind turbines, and generators to help build an understanding of the effects of dams. In creating their dam, they will learn about the various types of alternative hydropower sources including wave and tidal power and track the progress of electrification in the U.S. on a timeline alongside researching the positive and negative consequences of hydropower. To support this goal, students will do the following: Use the engineering design process (EDP) to create a design for a dam, wind turbine, and water wheel. Compare and contrast renewable power sources. Evaluate power sources for efficiency. Identify positive and negative consequences of human modifications of the environment. Identify and describe how several sources of renewable energy are used across the U.S. Use mapping skills to determine where natural resources are being accessed for energy usage. Effectively utilize shapes, materials, and measurements to create a model of a hydropower system. The STEM Road Map Curriculum Series is anchored in the Next Generation Science Standards, the Common Core State Standards, and the Framework for 21st Century Learning. In depth and flexible, Hydropower Efficiency can be used as a whole unit or in part to meet the needs of districts, schools, and teachers who are charting a course toward an integrated STEM approach Using Literature to Support Skills and Critical Discussion for Struggling Readers Nancy S.
