College of Literature, Science, and the Arts,1988 Peripheral Neurology Jay Allan Liveson,2000-09-21 Peripheral Neurology was the first book to innovatively utilize case presentations as a vehicle to teach peripheral neurology In fact it was the first to categorize the field of peripheral neurology as most other neurology texts concentrated on diseases of the central nervous system This case approach has since been emulated in many other texts and on various web sites Emphasizing the clinical condition rather than electrodiagnostic technique each topic is thoroughly addressed first in the Fundamental Concepts of Part I and then in multiple Case Studies presented in Part II The reader is able to simulate a true clinical environment where a diagnosis has to be arrived at with no organizational clues from the text Formulating conclusions by analyzing the history physical and laboratory data and linking from case to related case this is the only text which allows this type of interactive reading The book addresses many rare entities that the author is able to present based on his 30 years of experience Scientific American ,1871 Monthly magazine devoted to topics of general scientific interest Designing Computer-Based Learning Materials Harold Weinstock,Alfred Bork,2012-12-06 This book should be of value to all those who are considering the use of or have only just begun to use the computer as a learning aid regardless of the educational level and the discipline being considered Although the focus is on computer based instruction in physics and mathematics at the university and secondary school levels the strategies and problems are universally applicable At the NATO Advanced Study Institute upon which this volume is based the obstacles encountered by those engaged in such activities were similar in each of the eighteen countries represented Despite many false starts by those engaged in applying the computer as a learning aid we believe unequivocally that the computer presents a unique educational tool yet to be exploited adequately The reasons for slow development may become obvious as one reads this book the effort required to achieve measurable success is not trivial Extensive planning and team efforts are often necessary Unfortunately many well intentioned educators discover this too late We emphasize very early that it is the opportunity to engage students as active participants in the learning process which sets computer based learning apart from the learning potential of other electronic media The AOPA Pilot ,2003
