An Advanced Guide to Psychological Thinking Robert Ausch, 2015-05-06 Psychology is a diverse assortment of fields with distinct referents often using the same terms and it is not always easy to identify its shared assumptions At base the academic variants tend to include the notion that mental activity takes place in hard to access inner spaces making it more appropriate to study behavioral manifestations of it yet all of it can be represented in an expert language with a confusing relationship to physiological mechanisms An Advanced Guide to Psychological Thinking Critical and Historical Perspectives focuses on several key areas in psychology learning the brain child development and psychotherapy and identifies several conceptual tensions that ground psychological understanding of various phenomena

These include a tension between inside and outside structure and function higher and lower and description and explanation all have historically generated confusion at the heart of the discipline As psychology was transformed into the study of consciousness in the late nineteenth century and the science of behavior in the early twentieth the disciplines of psychology struggled to distinguish between what was properly inside and what was outside mind person and organism as well as what forms the study of these insides would take Additionally it was unclear how to reconceive the traditional structures of the post Cartesian mind in the terms of evolutionary functionalism without losing sight of the fact that the mind has its own organization or the historical connection between mind and higher forms of being Psychology's influence today particularly that of post Freudian therapeutics has extended far beyond the university creating a therapeutic sensibility by which Westerners make sense of themselves and their world An Advanced Guide to Psychological Thinking performs the vital task of helping psychology recognize its own foundations many different factors. These factors are divided into two main areas as internal factors and external factors. The common assumption is that internal factors are more effective than external factors. This is the dilemma about learning which process of lifelong learning is related to self-actualization. In this paper, discussion is limited to concept of lifelong learning and self-actualization.

LIFELONG LEARNING

An individual can take proper support from many components such as family, education system, media, and peers. However, they may not provide proper support for the individual. Thus, the individual needs more pedagogical support to solve problems of life, develop his/her skills and capabilities. The pedagogical support should be given by educational system. Teaching and learning in some areas such as math, science, drawing, social studies, and so on were defined as pedagogical support in the past. But this approach is weakening in today. During teaching and learning processes, teacher and learner should focus on the learning rather than the teaching. The concept of learning is likely to be argued in many dimensions. The concepts of teaching and learning tend to be redefined based on the latest changes.
