Economic Literacy ,1985 Teaching Villainification in Social Studies Cathryn van Kessel,Kimberly Edmondson,Wayne Journell,2024 These inquiries into villainification offer powerful insights for teaching about historical wrongdoing in more nuanced ways Includes topics related to U S politics financial education Holocaust education difficult histories apocalypse fiction the Marvel Cinematic Universe technology use LGBTQ school experiences rape culture geographies of invasion and the female body Applied Rasch Measurement: A Book of Exemplars Sivakumar Alagumalai,David D. Curtis,Njora Hungi,2006-03-30 While the primary purpose of the book is a celebration of John s contributions to the field of measurement a second and related purpose is to provide a useful resource We believe that the combination of the developmental history and theory of the method the examples of its use in practice some possible future directions and software and data files will make this book a valuable resource for teachers and scholars of the Rasch method This book is a tribute to Professor John P Keeves for the advocacy of the Rasch model in Australia Happy 80th birthday John xii There are good introductory texts on Item Response Theory Objective Measurement and the Rasch model However for a beginning researcher keen on utilising the potentials of the Rasch model theoretical discussions of test theory and associated indices do not meet their pragmatic needs Furthermore many researchers in measurement still have little or no knowledge of the features of the Rasch model and its use in a variety of situations and disciplines This book attempts to describe the underlying axioms of test theory and in particular the concepts of objective measurement and the Rasch model and then link theory to practice We have been introduced to the various models of test theory during our graduate days It was time for us to share with those keen in the field of measurement in education psychology and the social sciences the theoretical and practical aspects of objective measurement Conceptualisation and Measurement of Financial Competence Manuel Förster,Mandy Hommel,2025-09-30 This Open access book offers a pivotal contribution to the field of financial literacy research as it advances the understanding of financial literacy as a holistic competence encompassing cognition motivation emotion attitude behaviour and their interrelationships It provides a comprehensive overview and evaluation of concepts constructs and frameworks related to financial literacy and instruments used to measure financial competence The work also discusses identification synthesis and systematisation of a wide range of cognitive and non cognitive influences on financial behaviour The book not only introduces a unique holistic model of financial competence but also presents a draft of an innovative technology based test instrument designed to simulate and trace complex financial decision making processes and elucidate challenges confronted in complex problem solving situations The aim of this book is to shift from an isolated focus on individual cognitive facets mainly knowledge to a holistic modeling of competence in order to systematise the landscape of research on financial literacy and financial competence The work is instrumental for researchers educators and policymakers in advancing their understanding and methodologies and in paving the way for effective financial education interventions and promoting financially competent behaviour

An International Perspective on Economic Education William B.

Walstad,2012-12-06 Economics is taught in some form in the secondary schools of nations throughout the world The subject is rarely taught in elementary schools and while economics courses are offered in universities the majority of students end their formal education with secondary school Thus the best opportunity for the economic education of the youth of a nation occurs in secondary schools This book examines economic education at this critical level of the educational system The teaching of economics in secondary schools varies across countries These differences occur because of history the structure of education and other national factors At the same time there are common elements in the economic education of many countries especially in content coverage This contrast between the common features and the uniqueness of economic education in secondary schools of major industrial nations exemplifies the international perspective presented in this book The international perspective is developed in the six sections of the volume The first section discusses why nations should include economics in school curricula and presents a framework for teaching economics that should have global appeal Dissension and consensus on economic issues among North American and European economists are examined in the second section The third section surveys the U S research literature on precollege economic education and assesses the current state of economics instruction in U S schools The economics curricula and educational practices in seven other nations the U K Canada Japan Germany Austria Korea and Australia are described in the fourth and fifth sections The fifth section also presents international comparisons of economic understanding based on national testing in six of those nations The sixth and final section explores the role of economic education in centrally planned economies and its effects on the transition to a market economy using Russia Bulgaria and China as case studies

Reflections on Educational Achievement Rainer H.

Lehmann, Wilfried Bos, Thomas N.: Festschrift Postlethwaite, Wilfried Bos, Rainer H. Lehmann, Econometric Modeling in Economic Education Research William E. Becker Jr., Rolf A. Walstad,2012-12-06 Since its establishment in the 1950s the American Economic Association's Committee on Economic Education has sought to promote improved instruction in economics and to facilitate this objective by stimulating research on the teaching of economics These efforts are most apparent in the sessions on economic education that the Committee organizes at the Association's annual meetings At these sessions economists interested in economic education have opportunities to present new ideas on teaching and research and also to report the findings of their research The record of this activity can be found in the Proceedings of the American Economic Review The Committee on Economic Education and its members have been actively involved in a variety of other projects In the early 1960s it organized the National Task Force on Economic Education that spurred the development of economics teaching at the precollege level This in turn led to the development of a standardized research instrument a high school test of economic understanding This was followed later in the 1960s by the preparation of a similar test of understanding college economics The development of these two instruments greatly facilitated research on the impact of economics instruction opened the way for application of increasingly sophisticated statistical methods in measuring the impact of economic education and initiated a steady stream of research papers on a subject that previously had not been explored Modeling and Measuring Competencies in Higher Education Sigrid Blömeke, Olga

Zlatkin-Troitschanskaia, Christiane Kuhn, Judith Fege, 2013-04-20 Measuring competencies acquired over the course of higher education is an area of research that largely has been neglected This deficit can be attributed to the complexity of academic competencies since the variety of institutions programs occupational fields and job requirements render it difficult to define and even harder to measure outcomes Thus assessing the preconditions for and effects of competency development is a challenge methodologically In this book a comprehensive review of the international state of research on modeling and measuring competencies in higher education across several academic disciplines is presented along with an evaluation of the field's strengths and weaknesses Renowned experts share insight into the most important recent research projects and point out controversies and challenges Competencies are regarded as context specific dispositions acquired and required to cope successfully with domain specific situations and tasks However the range of these dispositions is controversial Should only cognitive facets be included or is it important to consider attitudes as well Insufficient response rates and panel attrition are further challenges as are the limitations of paper and pencil approaches to the complex measurement of higher education outcomes Thus this book may serve as a platform for the exchange of research experiences and perspectives and hopefully will instigate improvements in research into higher education Student Learning in German Higher Education Olga

Zlatkin-Troitschanskaia, Hans Anand Pant, Miriam Toepper, Corinna Lautenbach, 2020-02-15 This book offers a comprehensive overview of current innovative approaches to assessing domain specific and generic student learning and learning outcomes in higher education The presented work from all projects of the KoKoHs program the most significant research initiative in German higher education since 2011 describes established tools and empirical results A Profile of Indiana Students'
