Susan and Norma have been best friends for years, at first thrust together by force of circumstance, a job at The Pin Cushion, a haberdashery shop in 1990s Leicestershire, and then by force of character, neither being particularly inclined to make friends with anyone else. But now, thirty years later, faced with a husband seeking immortality and Norma out of reach on a wave of professional glory, Susan begins to wonder whether she has made the right choices about life, love, work and most importantly, friendship. Nina Stibbe's new novel is the story of the wonderful and sometimes surprising path of friendship from its conspiratorial beginnings along its irritating wrong turns to its final gratifying destination.

Mother Trouble Miranda J. Brady, 2024-10-01 Mother Trouble traces white maternal angst in popular culture across a span of more than fifty years from the iconic Rosemary's Baby to anti vaxx mom memes and HGTV shows The book narrows in on popular media to think about white maternal angst as a manifestation of feminism's unrealized possibilities and continued omissions since the second wave It interrogates intersecting systems of power which make mothers and their children the most impoverished people in the world and urges a greater appreciation in academic and popular thinking of the work that mothers do The book calls for an analytical expansion beyond gender to better address the erasure of reproductive labour and especially that performed by migrants and people of colour It illustrates the continued marginalization of racialized mothers and the disproportionate amount of labour performed by all mothers in a society where their work is devalued Ultimately Mother Trouble reveals how the unease around white motherhood in the media has become a proxy for the troubles faced by all mothers
