Corpus Linguistics and Linguistically Annotated Corpora
Sandra Kuebler, Heike Zinsmeister, 2014-12-18 Linguistically annotated corpora are becoming a central part of the corpus linguistics field One of their main strengths is the level of searchability they offer but with the annotation come problems of the initial complexity of queries and query tools This book gives a full pedagogic account of this burgeoning field Beginning with an overview of corpus linguistics its prerequisites and goals the book then introduces linguistically annotated corpora It explores the different levels of linguistic annotation including morphological parts of speech syntactic semantic and discourse level as well as advantages and challenges for such annotations It covers the main annotated corpora for English the Penn Treebank the International Corpus of English and OntoNotes as well as a wide range of corpora for other languages In its third part search strategies required for different types of data are explored All chapters are accompanied by exercises and by sections on further reading

The Second Language Acquisition of French Tense, Aspect, Mood and Modality
Dalila Ayoun, 2013-07-04 Temporal aspectual systems have a great potential of informing our understanding of the developing competence of second language learners So far the vast majority of empirical studies investigating L2 acquisition have largely focused on past temporality neglecting the acquisition of the expression of the present and future temporalities with rare exceptions aside from ESL learners leaving unanswered the question of how the investigation of different types of temporality may inform our understanding of the acquisition of temporal aspectual and mood systems as a whole This monograph addresses this question by focusing on three main objectives a to contribute to the already impressive body of research in the L2 acquisition of tense aspect and mood modality from a generative perspective and in so doing to present a more complete picture of the processes of L2 acquisition in general b to bridge the gap between linguistic theory and L2 acquisition c to make empirical findings more accessible to language instructors by proposing concrete pedagogical applications
