Literature Association. Congress,1973 Speaking Politically Eleni Philippou,2021-04-21 In this monograph Theodor Adorno s philosophy engages with postcolonial texts and authors that emerge out of situations of political extremity apartheid South Africa war torn Sri Lanka Pinochet s dictatorship and the Greek military junta This book is ground breaking in two key ways first it argues that Adorno can speak to texts with which he is not historically associated and second it uses Adorno's theory to unlock the liberatory potential of authors or novels traditionally understood to be apolitical While addressing Adorno's uneven critical response and dissemination in the Anglophone literary world the book also showcases Adorno's unique reading of the literary text both in terms of its innate historical content and formal aesthetic attributes Such a reading refuses to read postcolonial texts exclusively as political documents a problematic but changing tendency within postcolonial studies In short the book operates as a two way conversation asking What can Adorno's concepts give to certain literary texts but also reciprocally What can those texts give to our conventional understanding of Adorno and his applicability This book is an act of rethinking the literary in Adornian terms and rethinking Adorno through the literary

Language of the Revolution Eugen Wohl, Elena Păcurar, 2023-11-17 This edited book fills a void in the existing research concerning anti communist movements in Central and Eastern Europe outlining the linguistic implications of the cultural social and political metamorphoses brought about by the change of regime The authors included in this volume approach the topic from a variety of perspectives but ultimately focus on language seen as a fundamental tool for simultaneously subjugating and liberating concealing and revealing truth discouraging dissidence and fostering revolt Readers are invited to discover the linguistic implications of the many shapes and forms that the 1989 anti communist revolutions took Equally interesting are the investigations of the revolution aftermath in the first years of transition to democracy Perceived as a whole throughout the Cold War 1947 1991 the so called Eastern Bloc managed to reveal its heterogeneity the singularity of each of its comprising states and the multitude of its internal contrasts most vividly perhaps in the manifold manifestations of the 1989 anti communist fight This book will be of interest to academics and researchers from various fields including history socio linguistics political studies and conflict studies Women Faculty of Color in the White Classroom Lucila Vargas, 2002 What is it like for women of color to teach in predominantly white college classrooms This anthology is about the pedagogical implications of diversifying the faculty of higher education It compiles narratives by women professors of color who interrogate their classroom experiences in predominantly white U S campuses to examine the impact of their social positions upon their classroom practices and their teaching learning selves The authors reflect upon their unique classroom challenges and talk about the teaching learning strategies they use to find rewards in their interactions with students This anthology explores the larger question of how social distinctions shape classroom social life and will be a resource for those concerned with enabling the diversification of the faculty of institutions of higher learning
