Four Points of the Compass Jerry Brotton,2024-11-12 From the New York Times bestselling author of A History of the World in 12 Maps this is the revelatory history of the four cardinal directions that have oriented and defined our place on the globe for millennia North south east and west almost all societies use these four cardinal directions to orientate themselves and to understand who they are by projecting where they are For millennia these four directions have been foundational to our travel navigation and exploration and are central to the imaginative moral and political geography of virtually every culture in the world Yet they are far more subjective and sometimes contradictory than we might realize Four Points of the Compass leads us on a journey of directional discovery Societies have understood and defined directions in very different ways based on their locations in time and space Historian Jerry Brotton reveals why Hebrew culture privileges east why Renaissance Europeans began drawing north at the top of their maps why early Islam revered the south why the Aztecs used five color coded cardinal directions and why no societies primitive or modern have ever orientated themselves westwards In doing so politically loaded but widely used terms such as the Middle East the Global South the West Indies the Orient and even the western world take on new meanings Who decided on these terms and what do they mean for geopolitics How have directions like east and west taken on the status of cultural identities or more accurately stereotypes Yet today because of GPS capability cardinal points are less relevant Online we place ourselves at the center of the map as little blue dots moving across geospatial apps we have become the most important compass point though in the process we ve disconnected ourselves from the natural world Imagining what future changes technology may impose Jerry Brotton skillfully reminds us how crucial the four cardinal directions have been to everyone who has ever walked our planet For anyone interested in history geography or surprising new ways to think about the world at large Four Points of the Compass will be a stimulating experience

Near East and Mediterranean world featuring authoritative contributions by many of the top international experts on ancient monsters and the monstrous. The first part provides original studies of individual monsters such as the Chimaera, Cerberus, the Hydra and the Minotaur, and of monster groups such as dragons, centaurs, sirens and Cyclopes. This section also explores their encounters with the major heroes of classical myth including Perseus, Jason, Heracles and Odysseus. The second part examines monsters of ancient folklore and ethnography encompassing the restless dead, blood drinking lamiae, exotic hybrid animals, the so called dog headed men and many other unexpected creatures and peoples. The third part covers various interpretations of these creatures from multiple perspectives including psychoanalysis, colonialism and disability studies with monster theory itself evident across the entire volume. The final part discusses reception of these ancient monsters across time and space from the Middle Ages to the Renaissance to modern times from Persia to Scandinavia, the Caribbean and Latin America and concludes with chapters considering the use and adaptation of ancient monsters in children's literature, science fiction, fantasy and modern scientific disciplines. This Handbook is the first large scale inclusive guide to monsters in antiquity, their places in literature and art across the millennia and their influence on later literature and thought.

Retroland Peter Kemp, 2023-08-29. The essential companion for lovers of the contemporary novel. Over the past fifty years fiction in English has never looked more various. Books bulkier than Victorian three deckers appear alongside works of minimalist brevity and experiments with form have produced everything from verse novels to Twitter thread narratives. This is truly a golden age. But what unites this kaleidoscopic array of genres and styles? Celebrated writer and critic Peter Kemp shows how modern writers are obsessed with the past. In a series of engaging and illuminating chapters Retroland traces this novelistic preoccupation with history from the imperial and the political to the personal and the literary. Featuring famous names from across the United Kingdom, United States and the wider Anglophone world ranging from Salman Rushdie to Sarah Waters, Toni Morrison to Hilary Mantel, this is a work of remarkable synthesis and clarity, a wonderfully readable and enjoyably opinionated guide to our current literary landscape. Step Ahead 2 Activity Book (Special/Express), Ethical English Mark A. Pike, 2014-12-18. Ethical English addresses the ethos of English teaching and draws attention to its spirit and fundamental character, identifying the features that English teaching must exhibit if it is to continue to sustain us morally as a liberal art and to provide the learners of increasingly plural societies with a broad ethical education. Mark A. Pike provides practical examples from the classroom including assessment and teaching, knitting these with an ethical critique of practice, stimulating readers to engage in critical reflection concerning the teaching of English. This book not only shows readers how to teach English but also helps them to critically evaluate the ethics of the practice of English teaching. The Routledge Handbook of Translation and Censorship Denise Merkle, Brian James Baer, 2024-12-18. The Routledge Handbook of Translation and Censorship is the first handbook to provide a comprehensive overview of the topic, offering broad geographic and historical coverage and extending the political contexts to incorporate colonial and postcolonial viewpoints as well as
