The complex computational and data management needs of life science research make Grid technologies an attractive support solution. However, many important issues must be addressed before the Life Science Grid becomes commonplace. The 1st International Life Science Grid Workshop LSGRID 2004 was held in Kanazawa, Japan, May 31–June 1, 2004. This workshop focused on life science applications of grid systems, especially for bionetwork research and systems biology, which require heterogeneous data integration from genome to phenome, mathematical modeling and simulation from molecular to population levels, and high performance computing including parallel processing, special hardware, and grid computing. Fruitful discussions took place through 18 oral presentations, including a keynote address and five invited talks, and 16 poster and demonstration presentations in the fields of grid infrastructure for life sciences, systems biology, massive data processing, databases, and data grids, grid portals, and pipelines for functional annotation, parallel and distributed applications, and life science grid projects. The workshop emphasized the practical aspects of grid technologies in terms of improving grid-enabled data information, knowledge sharing, high performance computing, and collaborative projects. There was agreement among the participants that the advancement of grid technologies for life science research requires further concerted actions and promotion of grid applications. We therefore concluded the workshop with the announcement of LSGRID 2005.

The Molecular Vision of Life Lily E. Kay, 1993. This fascinating study examines the rise of American molecular biology to disciplinary dominance, focusing on the period between 1930 and the elucidation of DNA structure in the mid 1950s. Research undertaken during this period, with its focus on genetic structure and function, endowed scientists with then unprecedented power over life. By viewing the new biology as both a scientific and cultural enterprise, Lily E. Kay shows that the growth of molecular biology was a result of systematic efforts by key scientists and their sponsors to direct the development of biological research toward a shared vision of science and society. She analyzes the motivations and mechanisms empowering this vision by focusing on two key institutions: Caltech and its sponsor, the Rockefeller Foundation. Her study explores a number of vital, sometimes controversial topics among them: the role of private power centers in shaping scientific agenda and the political dimensions of pure research. It also advances a sobering argument: the cognitive and social groundwork for genetic engineering and human genome projects was laid by the American architects of molecular biology during these early decades of the project. This book will be of interest to molecular biologists, historians, sociologists, and the general reader alike.

Chinese Agricultural Development, 1979–June 1986 Charles N. Bebee, 1986. Data Integration in the Life Sciences Sarah Cohen-Boulakia, 2008-06-11. This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 5th International Workshop on Data Integration in the Life Sciences DILS 2008, held in Evry, France, in June 2008. The 18 revised full papers presented together with 3 keynote talks and a tutorial paper were carefully reviewed and selected from 54 submissions. The papers address all current issues in data integration and data management from the life science point of view and are organized in topical sections on Semantic Web for the life sciences, designing and evaluating architectures to integrate biological data, new architectures and experience on using systems systems using technologies from the Semantic Web for the life sciences mining integrated biological data and new features of major resources for biomolecular data National Library of Medicine Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.),1968 Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.),1969 Includes subject section name section and 1968 1970 technical reports Current Trends in Web Engineering Cesare Pautasso,Patrick Marcel,2025-01-21 This volume constitutes the papers of two workshops which were held in conjunction with the International Conference on Web Engineering ICWE 2024 held in Tampere Finland on June 17 2024 The 6 revised full papers and 2 short papers presented in this book were carefully reviewed and selected from 14 submissions They stem from the following workshops Fourth International Workshop on Big Data Driven Edge Cloud Services BECS 2024 Third International Workshop on Web Applications for Life Sciences WALs 2024 The American Bookseller ,1878 Planetary Atmospheres ,1962 Regulatory Protection in the Pharmaceutical and Life Science Industries Żaneta Zemła-Pacud,2025-06-09 This book examines the EU framework for regulatory protection in life science industries with a particular focus on the pharmaceutical sector aneta Zem a Pacud discusses the rules governing regulatory exclusivities and rewards for innovative life science products and the regulatory data underlying them The author presents the framework s meaning for the sector as a sui generis instrument of protection of Intellectual Property and provides an up to date analysis of the legislation driving EU reform of pharmaceutical regulation
