

MARKETING MANAGEMENT

Analysis, Planning, Implementation, and Control

Ninth Edition

by

Philip Kotler

S.C. Johnson Distinguished Professor of International Marketing, J.K. Kellogg Graduate School of Management, Northwestern University

THE all-time international best-seller is in its new edition with a managerial orientation focussing on major marketing decisions that marketing managers and top management face in their effort to harmonise the organisation's objectives, capabilities and resources with marketplace needs and opportunities.

Company cases and examples are introduced throughout the book to illustrate effective marketing principles, strategies and practices. It applies marketing thinking to the complete spectrum of marketing and covers all the topics that an informed marketing manager needs to know. It covers the main issues in strategic, tactical and administrative marketing.

Additions to this new edition include a great number of new material and case examples from the 1990's, featuring such companies as Blockbuster Video, Starbucks, 3M, Procter & Gamble, and many others.

The text also incorporates new end-of-chapter concept applications, many of them dealing with actual marketing challenges facing real companies. There is a greater emphasis on global marketing, marketing and technology, socially responsible/ethical marketing, and marketing's interaction with other departments.

New and expanded material is available on value marketing, brand building, equity, war between national and store brands, geodemographics, database marketing, customer lifetime value, loyalty marketing, etc.
