Kaczynski,2020-09-29 The Handbook takes as its subject the complex phenomenon of Christian monasticism It addresses for the first time in one volume the multiple strands of Christian monastic practice Forty four essays consider historical and thematic aspects of the Catholic Eastern Orthodox Oriental Orthodox Protestant and Anglican traditions as well as contemporary new monasticism The essays in the book span a period of nearly two thousand years from late ancient times through the medieval and early modern eras on to the present day Taken together they offer not a narrative survey but rather a map of the vast terrain The intention of the Handbook is to provide a balance of some essential historical coverage with a representative sample of current thinking on monasticism It presents the work of both academic and monastic authors and the essays are best understood as a series of loosely linked episodes forming a long chain of enquiry and allowing for various points of view. The authors are a diverse and international group who bring a wide range of critical perspectives to bear on pertinent themes and issues. They indicate developing trends in their areas of specialisation. The individual contributions and the volume as a whole set out an agenda for the future direction of monastic studies. In today's world where there is increasing interest in all world monasticisms where scholars are adopting more capacious global approaches to their investigations and where monks and nuns are casting a fresh eye on their ancient traditions this publication is especially timely.

Irish women in medicine, c.1880s-1920s Laura Kelly, 2016-05-16 Available in paperback for the first time this book is the first comprehensive history of Irish women in medicine in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries. It focuses on the debates surrounding women's admission to Irish medical schools, the geographical and social backgrounds of early women medical students, their educational experiences and subsequent careers. It is the first collective biography of the 760 women who studied medicine at Irish institutions in the period and in contrast to previous histories puts forward the idea that women medical students and doctors were treated fairly and often favourably by the Irish medical hierarchy. It highlights the distinctiveness of Irish medical education in contrast with that in Britain and is also unique in terms of the combination of rich sources it draws upon such as official university records from Irish universities, medical journals, Irish newspapers, Irish student magazines, the memoirs of Irish women doctors and oral history accounts.

A Field Guide to the Geology of Western Ireland Paul D. Ryan, 2022-07-16 This book contains a comprehensive field guide including detailed itineraries and supporting data to the Geology of Western Ireland, a classic site for world geology. It facilitates study into the rock record of the Neoproterozoic birth to the Devonian death of the Iapetus Ocean along the Laurentian North American margin. The enormous variety of lithologies and processes available for study in this spectacularly exposed region include fluviatile to deep sea sediments, layered ultramafic intrusions, to reverse zoned granite batholiths, zeolite to eclogite facies metamorphic assemblages, continental rifting, subduction processes, island arc evolution, arc-continent collision, Andean margin development and continent-continent collision. An introduction to the geology that includes information relevant to the planning and execution of field trips in the region is followed by nine chapters, each providing the necessary background, field itineraries, exercises and points for debate, covering the Laurentian basement and Neoproterozoic cover of North Mayo, Sligo, the Ox Mountains and Connemara, the metamorphic nappes and syn-orogenic intrusions of the Ordovician Grampian Orogeny, the Cambro-Ordovician subduction accretion complex of Clew Bay, the obducted Ordovician fore-arc basin of South Mayo, the post-subduction flip-late Ordovician of South Connemara, the Silurian successor basins deformed during the final closure of the Iapetus Ocean, the late to post-orogenic Devonian sediments, the Devonian Granite batholiths and the post-orogenic Carboniferous cratonic sediments. Two final chapters summarise the current tectonic interpretation of this region, areas for future research and the extensive sources of geochemical and geophysical data.
