Exploring Macroeconomics, 6th Edition Robert L. Sexton, Colin C. Kovacs, Peter N. Fortura, 2023-01-27 Exploring Macroeconomics Sixth Canadian Edition offers students a lively approach designed to take the intimidation out of economics. With its short self-contained learning units and its carefully chosen pedagogy, graphs and photos, this text helps students master and retain the basic principles of economics. In addition, the current events focus and modular format of presenting information makes Exploring Macroeconomics a very student accessible and user friendly text. Robert Sexton's section-by-section approach is designed to encourage economic literacy and help students appreciate how economics impacts both business and daily life. Sexton helps students build a solid understanding of economic principles by engaging them from the outset and providing them with multiple points of practice.

Migration and Urbanization: Local Solutions for Global Economic Challenges Ushakov, Denis, 2019-08-16 International migration and urbanization as economic processes can provide great opportunities to solve local and regional economic and social problems and lead to the leveling of global economic unfairness and multi complexity. However, uncontrolled migration and urbanization can easily destroy market stability and create many new social and economic problems both in developed and developing countries. Migration and Urbanization: Local Solutions for Global Economic Challenges is a collection of innovative research that sets basic rules and patterns for state regulation of urbanization and international migration and for increasing the economic efficiency of developed and developing countries. Additionally, the book evaluates the economic impact of urbanization and international migration at the global, national and regional levels. While highlighting topics including economic security, modern mechanisms and migration policy, this book is ideally designed for government officials, economists, educators, policymakers, industry leaders, business managers, academicians, researchers and students.

Labour Markets & Employment Berch Berberoğlu, Mike O'Donnell, Nilay Etiler, Betül Yüce Dural, Meriç Subaşı Ertekin, Lubomír Nenička, P. K. Basu, John Hicks, Denise Conroy, Richard B. Sappey, M. Mustafa Erdoğan, Olanrewaju Adewole Adediran, Renáta Halásková, Martina Halásková, David Slavata, Berna Ak Bingöl, Rengin Ak, Burak Kahraman, Fatih Kahraman, Mehtap Tosun, Esra Köten Peker, 2012 As the outcome of the third international conference of political economy, the papers in this volume cover a range of topics related to the conference theme of labor markets and employment, from globalization to migration, unionization to policy implementation and women's labor to child labor and ethnic issues in employment. Despite the wide range they come from, almost all papers draw attention to the radical changes in employment policies and practices around the world, and many of them point to global neoliberalism as the source of this transformation process, one way or another. We believe that revealing the dynamics of this process and putting forward possible alternative policies and practices across the world would provide a significant contribution to solving the problems of labor markets and employment, as the papers in this collection attempt to do.

Canada such a successful society Joseph Heath celebrates the much maligned value of efficiency and asks some searching questions about the forces that threaten to undermine our quality of life Canada is an efficient society much more efficient than our neighbour to the south where personal liberty takes precedence over collective well being This is one of the reasons Heath argues that the United Nations Annual Human Development Report consistently ranks Canada as the best place in the world to live But this efficiency is under siege Can we resist the allure of short sighted tax cuts Can we maintain our quality of life in the face of relentless pressure to increase our productivity both at work and at home This is a profound and important look at how government and business conspire to improve our lives and at the dramatic changes that will decide our social and economic future Adapting Public Policy to a Labour Market in Transition France St-Hilaire,2000 After two decades of rapid technological and structural change and an overall record of poor economic performance Canadians need to take stock of the ongoing transformation of the labour market and its implications for public policy The fundamental changes to the nature of work itself suggest that labour and social policies established decades ago may no longer be adequate or appropriate Moreover the continuing perception of increased instability and worsening employment outcomes and the growing concern over increased earnings inequality and labour market polarisation have raised serious questions about the role of government not only in addressing the consequences of economic adjustment but also in facilitating or worse hampering this process In Adapting Public Policy to a Labour Market in Transition leading labour market specialists examine specific areas of public policy that have generated considerable attention and debate in recent years They provide new evidence on issues of utmost concern to the well being of Canadians and a solid assessment of the challenges and avenues for policy reform Unemployment Dynamics in the United States and West Germany Markus Gangl,2012-12-06 In writing this book I increasingly became aware of the extent to which much of the finest social science research has been devoted to the issue of unemployment Unemployment rightly is a key issue in the social sciences for search of social and political answers to the economic social and psychological distress caused by un certainty and macroeconomic change I was glad to find my own worries shared by eminent and respected scholars George Akerlof once confessed to pursue the study of unemployment ultimately because of his father s distress from fear of un employment and Wout Ultee started research on unemployment from the consid eration that parents talk about unemployment risks should not come to dominate marriage parties or other family occasions The problem of unemployment is thus hardly confmed to actual loss of income but one where economic insecurity be gins to undermine the very fabric of society In consequence to combat unem ployment should indeed be a foremost issue in societies striving for freedom and justice for their citizenry yet to succeed obviously requires an understanding of the underlying economic realities If this study could contribute to this endeavor all the time spent in writing would seem well spent indeed Against the significant body of existing social science research on unemploy ment it seems appropriate to be clear about the scope and limitations of the cur rent study however Jobs for Shared Prosperity

Roberta Gatti, Matteo Morgandi, Rebekka Grun, Stefanie Brodmann, Juan Manuel Moreno, Daniela Marotta, Marc Schiffbauer, Elizabeth Mata Lorenzo, 2013-04-25 In the aftermath of the Arab Spring when thousands of young women and men fought for the opportunity to realize their aspirations and potential the question of jobs continues to be crucial in the Middle East and North Africa region This report uses jobs as a lens to weave together the complex dynamics of employment creation skills supply and the institutional environment of labor markets Consistent with the framework of the 2013 World Development Report on jobs of which this report is the regional companion this work goes beyond the traditional links between jobs productivity and living standards to include an understanding of how jobs matter for individual dignity and expectations an aspect that was clearly central to the Arab Spring Just as important this report complements the economic perspective with an analysis of political economy equilibrium with a view to identifying mechanisms that would trigger a reform process As such the report has three objectives First it seeks to provide an in depth characterization of the dynamics of labor markets in the Middle East and North Africa and to analyze the barriers to the creation of more and better jobs It does so by taking a cross sectoral approach and identifying the distortions and incentives that the many actors firms governments workers students education and training systems currently face and which ultimately determine the equilibrium in labor markets Second the report proposes a medium term roadmap of policy options that could promote the robust and inclusive growth needed to tackle the structural employment challenge for the region Third the report aims to inform and open up a platform for debate on jobs among a broad set of stakeholders with the ultimate goal of contributing to reach a shared view of the employment challenges and the reform path ahead
