Le chien des Baskerville Arthur Conan Doyle, 1911 Agatha Christie and New Directions in Reading Detective Fiction Alistair Rolls, 2022-06-16 This book brings a new lens to the work of Agatha Christie through a series of close readings which challenge the official solutions by Hercule Poirot and Miss Marple This book's approach interweaves two core ideas first it explores the importance of French critic Pierre Bayard's self-styled detective criticism second it takes detective criticism in a new direction by refocusing on the beginnings of Agatha Christie's novels In this way the book counters the end orientation that has traditionally dominated the reading experience of and critical response to detective fiction by exploring the potential of the beginning to host other interpretations and stories Offering a new way of reading detective fiction this book is a mixture of narratology and detective criticism and deploys it in the form of radical new readings of a number of Christie's most famous works This illuminating text will interest students and scholars of crime and detective fiction literary studies and comparative literature L'Affaire du collier ... Frantz Funck-Brentano, 1921 The Foreign in International Crime Fiction Jean Anderson, Carolina Miranda, Barbara Pezzotti, 2012-06-14 The foreigner is a familiar character in popular crime fiction from the foreign detective whose outsider status provides a unique perspective on a familiar or exotic location to the xenophobic portrayal of the criminal other Exploring popular crime fiction from across the world The Foreign in International Crime Fiction examines these popular works as transcultural contact zones in which writers can tackle such issues as national identity immigration globalization and diaspora communities Offering readings of 20th and 21st century crime writing from Norway the UK India China Europe and Australasia the essays in this book open up new directions for scholarship on crime writing and transnational literatures Sherlock Holmes Was Wrong Pierre Bayard, 2010-09-01 In his brilliant reinvestigation of the classic case of The Hound of the Baskervilles Pierre Bayard uses the last thoughts of the murder victim as his key to unravel the mystery leading the reader to the astonishing conclusion that Holmes and in fact Arthur Conan Doyle got things all wrong Part intellectual entertainment part love letter to crime novels and part crime novel in itself Sherlock Holmes Was Wrong turns one of our most beloved stories delightfully on its head Metropolitan

Intimacies Francisco Cruces, 2022-06-27 In Metropolitan Intimacies An Ethnography on the Poetics of Daily Life Francisco Cruces examines intimacy and meaning making in metropolitan residents daily lives An ethnography based on rich micro stories Cruces situates life poetics amongst other metropolitan processes in three major cities Madrid Montevideo and Mexico City to reveal the complex meanings around modern urbanity

The Monstrosity of Christ Slavoj Žižek, John Milbank, 2011-02-25 A militant Marxist atheist and a Radical Orthodox Christian theologian square off on everything from the meaning of theology and Christ to the war machine of corporate mafia What matters is not so much that Žižek is endorsing a demythologized disenchanted Christianity without transcendence as that he is offering in the end despite what he sometimes claims a heterodox version of Christian belief John Milbank To put it even more bluntly my claim is that it is Milbank who is effectively guilty of heterodoxy ultimately of a regression to paganism in my atheism I am more Christian than Milbank Slavoj Žižek In this corner philosopher Slavoj Žižek a militant atheist who represents the critical materialist stance against religion's illusions in the other corner Radical Orthodox theologian John Milbank an influential and provocative thinker who argues that theology is the only foundation upon which knowledge politics and ethics can stand In The Monstrosity of Christ Žižek and Milbank go head to head for three rounds employing an impressive arsenal of moves to advance their positions and press their respective advantages By the closing bell they have not only proven themselves worthy adversaries they have shown that faith and reason are not simply and intractably opposed Žižek has long been interested in the emancipatory potential offered by Christian theology And Milbank seeing global capitalism as the new century's greatest ethical challenge has pushed his own ontology in more political and materialist directions Their debate in The Monstrosity of Christ concerns the future of religion secularity and political hope in light of a monstrous event God becoming human For the first time since Žižek's turn toward theology we have a true debate between an atheist and a theologian about the very meaning of theology Christ the Church the Holy Ghost Universality and the foundations of logic The result goes far beyond the popularized atheist theist point counterpoint of recent books by Christopher Hitchens Richard Dawkins and others Žižek begins and Milbank answers countering dialectics with paradox The debate centers on the nature of and relation between paradox and parallax between analogy and dialectics between transcendent glory and liberation Slavoj Žižek is a philosopher and cultural critic He has published over thirty books including Looking Awry The Puppet and the Dwarf and The Parallax View these three published by the MIT Press John Milbank is an influential Christian theologian and the author of Theology and Social Theory Beyond Secular Reason and other books Creston Davis who conceived of this encounter studied under both Žižek and Milbank

The Cambridge Companion to Sherlock Holmes Janice M. Allan, Christopher Pittard, 2019-05-02 Accessible exploration of Sherlock Holmes and his relationship to late Victorian culture as well as his ongoing significance and popularity

Criminal Moves Jesper Guldal, Stewart King, Alistair Rolls, 2019 Criminal Moves is a ground breaking collection of essays that challenges the distinction between literary and popular fiction and proposes that crime fiction is a genre that constantly violates its own boundaries Reorienting crime fiction studies towards the mobility of the genre it has profound ramifications for how we read individual crime stories

Our Man in Paris John Lichfield, 2012-03-30 Since 1997 John Lichfield The Independent's correspondent in France has been sending dispatches back to the newspaper in London More than transient news stories the popular Our Man in Paris series consists of essays on all things French Sometimes serious at other times light hearted they offer varied vignettes of life in the hexagone and trace the author's evolving relationship with his adopted country Many of Lichfield's themes concern the mysteries of Paris and its people Who is responsible for the city's extraordinary plumbing How can you drive around the Arc de Triomphe and survive He also ponders the phenomena that intrigue many foreigners such as the eloquence of the capital's beggars and the identity of the intimidating but fast disappearing concierge Visiting places as different as the Musée d'Orsay and Disneyland he explores culture high and low as well as the everyday pleasures and problems of living in Paris

Paris and the Fetish Alistair Rolls, 2014-01-05 Freud's 1927 essay on the acquisition of a screen memory or fetish allows the subject to come to terms with the traumatic truth that for him dominates the present moment in Freud's scenario the truth of mother's sexuality by maintaining alongside and not in place of it a parallel story of the past the myth of the phallic mother In this book Freud's theory of the fetish and in particular this way of allowing two opposed and ostensibly mutually exclusive narratives to co exist is used to provide a number of Parisian crime texts with radical new solutions The fetishistic world view of Charles Baudelaire's poetics will be shown to provide the template for all overvalued instances of women passing by notably it will be seen how the famous assault on one of Christian Dior's models as she displayed the New Look for the first time in Montmartre in 1947 depends on a fetish erected in the poem une passante The same Paris streets allow red herrings to be raised to the status of truth in novels by Fred Vargas L o Malet and Frédéric Cathala In these texts the discovery of a primal scene allows doubt to be cast over authorial solutions and new murderers or victims to be found In the case of Jean Paul Sartre's La Nause the fetishism at work is shown to have harboured a serial killer where no crime was previously considered to have taken place In these analyses fetishism is mapped onto prose poetics intertextuality and deconstruction in order to challenge the way we read text More importantly rereading these texts allows us to see fetishism in a new light as a force for positive creative acts of meaning making Alistair Rolls is Associate Professor of French Studies at the University of Newcastle Australia He is the author of The Flight of the Angels Intertextuality in Four Novels by Boris Vian Rodopi 1999 and with Deborah Walker of French and American Noir Dark Crossings Palgrave Macmillan 2009

The Detective and the Artist J.K. Van Dover, 2019-01-25 This book focuses on the distinctive role that artists have played in detective fiction as detectives as villains and victims and as bystanders With a few significant exceptions literary detectives have always identified themselves as essentially the deconstructors of the artful crimes of others They may use various methods ratiocinative scientific or hard boiled but they always unravel the threads that the villains have woven into deceptive covers for their crimes The detective does in the end produce a work of art a narrative that explains everything that needs explanation But the detective s moral work is often juxtaposed to the aesthetic work of the painters poets and writers that the detective encounters during an investigation The author surveys this juxtaposition in works by important authors from the early development of the genre Poe Conan Doyle the golden age Bentley Christie Sayers James et al and the hard boiled era Hammett Chandler Macdonald Spicer et al French Fiction Today Warren Motte,2017-06-23 French Fiction Today focuses on the French novel in the twenty first century examining a series of works that are exemplary of broader currents in the genre Each of these texts wagers insistently upon our willingness to speculate about literature and its uses in an age when the value of literature is no longer taken as axiomatic Each of these texts may be thought of as a critical novel a form that calls upon us to engage with it in a critical manner promising that meaning will arise in the articulation of writing and reading Each of these authors participates in a debate about what the novel is as a cultural form in our present and about what it may become in a future that begins right now The Cambridge Companion to French Literature John D. Lyons,2016 A fresh and comprehensive account of the literature of France from medieval romances to twenty first century experimental poetry and novels Cryptic Subtexts in Literature and Film Steven F Walker,2018-07-17 One of the primary objectives of comparative literature is the study of the relationship of texts also known as intertextuality which is a means of contextualizing and analyzing the way literature grows and flourishes through inspiration and imitation direct or indirect When the inspiration and imitation is direct and obvious the study of this rapport falls into the more restricted category of hypertextuality What the author has labeled a cryptic subtext however is an extreme case of hypertextuality It involves a series of allusions to another text that have been deliberately inserted by the author into the primary text as potential points of reference This book takes a deep dive into a broad array of literature and film to explore these allusions and the hidden messages therein The Rhetoric of Topics and Forms Gianna Zocco,2021-01-18 The fourth volume of the collected papers of the ICLA congress The Many Languages of Comparative Literature includes articles that study thematic and formal elements of literary texts Although the question of prioritizing either the level of content or that of form has often provoked controversies most contributions here treat them as internally connected While theoretical considerations inform many of the readings the main interest of most articles can be described as rhetorical in the widest sense given that the ancient discipline of rhetoric did not only include the study of rhetorical figures and tropes such as metaphor irony or satire but also that of topoi which were originally viewed as the places where certain arguments could be found but later came to represent the arguments or intellectual themes themselves Another feature shared by most of the articles is the tendency of undeclared thematology which not only reflects the persistence of the charge of positivism but also shows that most scholars prefer to locate themselves within more specific often interdisciplinary fields of literary study In this sense this volume does not only prove the ongoing relevance of traditional fields such as rhetoric and thematology but provides contributions to currently flourishing research areas among them literary multilingualism literature and emotions and ecocriticism Origins and Legacies of Marcel Duhamel's Série Noire Alistair Charles Rolls, Clara Dominique Sitbon, Marie-Laure Jacqueline Vuaille-Barcan, 2017-12-18 In Origins and Legacies of Marcel Duhamel's Série Noire Alistair Rolls Clara Sitbon and Marie Laure Vuaille Barcan counter the myths and received wisdom that are typically associated with this iconic French crime fiction series namely that it was born in Paris on a tide of postwar euphoria that it initially consisted of translations of American hard boiled classics by the likes of Dashiell Hammett and Raymond Chandler and that the translations were rushed and rather approximate Instead an alternative vision of Duhamel's translation practice is proposed one based on a French tradition of auto or original translation of ostensibly American crime fiction and one that appropriates the source text in order to create an allegory of the target culture
