Life S Like That:

"La gare de temps. A lifetime's story" Guido Elias R. Contino, Literature and philosophy are closely intertwined in this autobiographical and symphonic novel where they are reviewed in all eras of the author's life. In it is described a descending parabola in which it appears a world once happy and serene that slowly sank into darkness and oblivion according to the classical scheme of the decline of the West as described by some authors who have been of inspiration to its author. Heidegger, Schmitt, Jünger and Spengler never mentioned expressly but invisible presences and inexorable judges of the times and the present things and those to come. It is as a collection of real experiences and for which the author was inspired by the style of British writers Irvine Welsh, David King and David Lodge with a touch of Forsythe always lived by the author in first person. Also wants to be a kind of manual intended not as a collection of practical advice because there are many other manuals in this regard but as a lesson based on past things as a warning and teaching for future things as Herodotus wanted in his Histories. As it is written in the Gospels: Repent because the time is at hand. The time in fact is at hand. Learning Disability Gordon Grant, Paul Ramcharan, Margaret Flynn, Malcolm Richardson, 2010-05-16. With its spread of chapters covering key issues across the life cycle, this text has established itself as the foundational primer for those studying the lived experiences of people with learning disabilities and their families and outcomes achieved through services and support systems. Recognising learning disability as a lifelong disability, this accessible book is structured around the life cycle. The second edition is refreshed and expanded to include seven new chapters covering Aetiology, Breaking news about disability and early intervention, Transition to adulthood, The sexual lives of women, Employment, Personalisation, People with hidden identities. With contributions from respected figures from a range of disciplines, the book draws heavily upon multidisciplinary perspectives and is based on the latest research and evidence for practice. The text is informed by medical, social and legal models of learning disability, exploring how learning disability is produced, reproduced and understood. Extensive use is made of real life case studies designed to bring theory, values, policy and practice to life. Narrative chapters describe in the words of people with learning disabilities themselves their lives and aspirations. They helpfully show readers the kinds of roles played by families, advocates and services in supporting people with learning disabilities. New exercises and questions have been added to encourage discussion and reflection on practice. Learning Disability is core reading for students entering health and social care professions to work with people with learning disabilities. It is a compelling reference text for practitioners as it squarely addresses the challenges facing people with learning disability, their loved ones and the people supporting them.
