boy heard or read that if a simple box having a hole of a certain size were set upon a post in March or early April it would not be long before bluebirds would be around to see if the place would do as a summer cottage So he took an old paint keg such as white lead is sold in nailed a cover across the top cut an opening in the side and then placed it on a post ten or twelve feet high Only a day or two passed before a soft call note was heard a flash of blue and the songster had arrived His mate came a few days later and the paint keg with its tenants became the center of interest in my life A second brood was reared in midsummer and when the cool days of September came a fine flock left for the South Each year the house was occupied until the post decayed and the paint keg fell down but in memory the sad call note is still heard when spring comes for it is house hunting time once more and the bluebirds are looking for the home they had known That boys elsewhere may know the joy of the companionship of birds this little book is written Birds will come and live near the houses of men whenever food and water are to be had safety from enemies is given and when homes are built for them to replace the shelters nature offered
