Threshold Concepts in Practice Ray Land, Jan H. F. Meyer, Michael T. Flanagan, 2016-07-09 Threshold Concepts in Practice brings together fifty researchers from sixteen countries and a wide variety of disciplines to analyse their teaching practice and the learning experiences of their students through the lens of the Threshold Concepts Framework In any discipline there are certain concepts the jewels in the curriculum whose acquisition is akin to passing through a portal Learners enter new conceptual and often affective territory Previously inaccessible ways of thinking or practising come into view without which they cannot progress and which offer a transformed internal view of subject landscape or even world view These conceptual gateways are integrative exposing the previously hidden interrelatedness of ideas and are irreversible However they frequently present troublesome knowledge and are often points at which students become stuck Difficulty in understanding may leave the learner in a liminal state of transition a betwixt and between space of knowing and not knowing where understanding can approximate to a form of mimicry Learners navigating such spaces report a sense of uncertainty ambiguity paradox anxiety even chaos The liminal space may equally be one of awe and wonderment Thresholds research identifies these spaces as key transformational points crucial to the learner's development but where they can oscillate and remain for considerable periods These spaces require not only conceptual but ontological and discursive shifts This volume the fourth in a tetralogy on Threshold Concepts discusses student experiences and the curriculum interventions of their teachers in a range of disciplines and professional practices including medicine law engineering architecture and military education Cover image Detail from Eve offering the apple to Adam in the Garden of Eden and the serpent c 1520 25 Lucas Cranach the Elder 1472 1553 Bridgeman Images All rights reserved

Quality of Instruction in Physics Hans E. Fischer, Peter Labudde, Knut Neumann, Jouni Viiri, 2014 This book reports the findings from the tri national video study Quality of Instruction in Physics QuIP Within the scope of the QuIP study physics instruction was investigated in a total of 103 classes from Finland North Rhine Westphalia Germany and German speaking Switzerland The main aim was to identify typical patterns of physics instruction of the three samples and to investigate conditions under which these patterns are successful with respect to students learning interest and motivation Among others instructional characteristics the quality of students practical work successful patterns of sequencing the subject matter structure and teaching strategies were investigated by means of analyses of video recorded lessons Variables external to instruction that were investigated included teachers professional knowledge and students cognitive abilities The study followed a pre post design with data collection prior to and after an instructional unit on electrical energy and power The results are well in line with the findings from large scale international studies indicating a particularly successful instructional pattern in Finland A comparison of characterisation of instruction in comparison between the three countries reveals important findings for the improvement of the teaching and learning of physics in secondary school education

Connecting Physics Education Research and Practice Italo Testa, Marisa Michelini, Salvatore Esposito, 2025-08-15 This book presents a selection of the most recent research results from the Italian physics education research community aimed at enhancing the teaching and learning of physics The motivation for this publication arises from the lack of a comprehensive reference for teachers on research results in physics education Despite various physics curriculum reform initiatives such as the introduction of modern physics into high school curricula their effectiveness in improving the quality of physics teaching in schools has been limited The book offers a contextualized view of the main topics in physics education along with a comprehensive overview of the current challenges faced by physics education in Italy and abroad It also presents research findings that could potentially enhance students learning of physics Throughout the book the implications of these studies are outlined acknowledging issues and knowledge gaps that will guide future research in physics education Specifically rather than covering all the contents addressed in the physics curriculum the book presents research contributions that suggest potentially effective strategies methods and practices at different school levels from primary school to secondary school and university level Regarding physics content the book presents teaching proposals highlighting conceptual aspects and exemplary methodologies of interpretation in physics such as the physics of fluids and quantum mechanics It also includes research contributions on different methods and proposals for implementing practical activities reflecting on the role of the laboratory in learning the discipline and providing examples of integrating experimental and cognitive skills The book also addresses the role of affective variables such as physics identity self efficacy and attitudes toward physics in the learning process Additionally studies on teachers professional development are presented which can inform the design of proposals for educational paths and methods within a framework of close collaboration between schools and physics departments
