

SUGGESTED LESSON OUTLINE

Reviewing individual solutions to the problem (10 minutes)

Return your students' work on Counting Trees.

If you have not added questions to individual pieces of work, write your list of questions on the board. Students are to select questions from the board that are appropriate to their own work, and spend a few minutes thinking about their responses to them.

Recall what we were working on previously. What was the task about?

I have had a look at your work, and I have some questions I would like you to think about.

Carefully read through your own work and the questions I have written. I would like you to think, on your own, about my questions and how your work could be improved.

This is an opportunity for students to review their work. Whilst they are doing this, it may be appropriate to ask individual students questions that help them to clarify their thinking.

You may want to show the class Slide P-1 or Slide P-2 of the projector resource.

Counting Trees

The diagram shows some trees in a tree farm.

The circles • show old trees and the triangles • show young trees.

Tom wants to know how many trees there are of each type, but says it would take too long counting them all, one by one.

The Tree Farm

Tom has been thinking about the problem of counting the trees in the tree farm. He has written down some questions that he wants to ask you to help him. He has also written down some ideas for how to solve the problem. He has also written down some questions that he wants to ask you to help him. He has also written down some ideas for how to solve the problem. He has also written down some questions that he wants to ask you to help him. He has also written down some ideas for how to solve the problem.

When a list of questions is written on the board rather than on individual pieces of work, some students struggle to identify which questions they should be considering. If this is the case, it may be helpful to give students a printed version of the list of questions with the relevant ones highlighted.

Collaborative work: making posters (20 minutes)

Organize the class into small groups of two or three students and hand out an enlarged copy of the sheet The Tree Farm, poster paper, a glue stick, and felt-tipped pens.

Ask students to have another go at the task, but this time ask them to combine their ideas and use what they have learned from reviewing their individual solutions.

You each have your own individual solution and have been thinking about how you might improve this.

Share your method with your partner(s) and your ideas for improving your work.

Together in your group, agree on the best method for completing the problem and produce a poster, which shows a joint solution to the task that is better than your individual solutions.

State on your poster any assumptions you have made and give clear reasons for your choice of method.

Slide P-3 of the projector resource summarizes these instructions.
