Legacies of the Magdalen Laundries Miriam Haughton, Mary McAuliffe, Emilie Pine, 2021-11-23 This collection raises incisive questions about the links between the postcolonial carceral system which thrived in Ireland after 1922 and larger questions of gender sexuality identity class race and religion This kind of intersectional history is vital not only in looking back but in looking forward to identify the ways in which structural callousness still marks Irish society Essays include historical analysis of the ways in which women and children were incarcerated in residential institutions Ireland's Direct Provision system the policing of female bodily autonomy though legislation on prostitution and abortion in addition to the legacies of the Magdalen laundries This collection also considers how artistic practice and commemoration have acted as vital interventions in social attitudes and public knowledge helping to create knowledge and re shape social attitudes towards this history

House of Commons - Energy and Climate Change Committee: Local Energy - HC 180 Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Energy and Climate Change Committee, 2013-08-06 Government provides support to households who install small scale renewable energy systems through Feed in Tariffs FiT while large scale projects like off shore wind farms will soon be supported through new fixed price Contracts for Difference CfDs Medium sized energy projects of between 10 50 Megawatts MW currently fall in the gap and do not receive support Giving communities a stake in local energy projects has the potential to broaden public understanding of energy issues and could also enhance the security and efficiency of the energy system as a whole This report identifies a number of barriers that can prevent local energy projects getting off the ground Securing funding and Power Purchase Agreements connecting to the grid and overcoming public opposition can all prove difficult Obtaining planning permission can be costly and time consuming and the risk of losing tens of thousands of pounds if permission is not granted is a huge obstacle for community groups or small cooperatives. Some form of support mechanism is needed alongside a comprehensive package of measures addressing finance, planning, grid access and advice. The Green Investment Bank could provide seed funding and project development funding for feasibility studies, grid permits etc to reduce some of the risk in getting projects through the planning process. Government needs to do more to encourage local authorities to identify suitable areas for renewable energy development and to develop clear guidance about what is expected from local energy projects. National level planning guidance should be provided on technical issues that hold up planning consent for wind turbines and other low carbon technologies.

Data Protection on the Move Serge Gutwirth, Ronald Leenes, Paul De Hert, 2016-01-09. This volume brings together papers that offer methodologies, conceptual analyses, highlight issues, propose solutions and discuss practices regarding privacy and data protection. It is one of the results of the eight annual International Conference on Computers, Privacy and Data Protection (CPDP) 2015 held in Brussels in January 2015. The book explores core concepts, rights and values in upcoming data protection regulation and their adequacy in view of developments such as Big and Open Data, including the right to be forgotten, metadata and anonymity. It discusses privacy promoting methods and tools such as a formal systems modeling methodology, privacy by design in various forms, robotics, anonymous payment, the opportunities and burdens of privacy self management, the differentiating role privacy can play in innovation. The book also discusses EU policies with respect to Big and Open Data and provides advice to policy makers regarding these topics. Also, attention is being paid to regulation and its effects, for instance in case of the so-called EU cookie law and groundbreaking cases such as Europe v Facebook. This interdisciplinary book was written during what may turn out to be the final stages of the process of the fundamental revision of the current EU data protection law by the Data Protection Package proposed by the European Commission. It discusses open issues and daring and prospective approaches. It will serve as an insightful resource for readers with an interest in privacy and data protection.

Banks, Exchanges, and Regulators Ranald C. Michie, 2020-11-26. Never have financial markets been subjected to a period of change as rapid and extensive as took place from the 1970s onwards. In the 1970s, global financial markets were controlled by governments, compartmentalized along national boundaries and segregated according to the particular activities they engaged in. This all disintegrated in the decades that followed under the pressure of market forces, global integration and a revolution in the technology of trading. One product of this transformation was the Global Financial Crisis of 2008, which exposed the fragility of the new structures created and cast a long shadow that we still live in today. The response to that crisis has shaped the global financial system, which has been tested once again by the coronavirus pandemic. However, none of the outcomes of this transformation were inevitable despite the forces at work. They were the product of decisions taken at the time for a multitude of reasons. Banks, exchanges and regulators were faced with unprecedented challenges and opportunities as a revolution swept away traditional ways of conducting banking the methods used to trade in financial markets and the rules and regulations employed to enforce discipline In this book Randal C Michie provides an authoritative and unrivalled account of this upheaval based on a careful and exhaustive reading of the Financial Times over the last four decades using it to provide a source of material unmatched by any other in terms of depth and coverage By studying what happened and why in real time it is possible to explain the decisions taken that shaped the course of the transformation and its repercussions

Financialization Chris Hann, Don Kalb, 2020-08-01 Beginning with an original historical vision of financialization in human history this volume then continues with a rich set of contemporary ethnographic case studies from Europe Asia and Africa Authors explore the ways in which finance inserts itself into relationships of class and kinship how it adapts to non Western religious traditions and how it reconfigures legal and ecological dimensions of social organization and urban social relations in general Central themes include the indebtedness of individuals and households the impact of digital technologies the struggle for housing financial education and political contestation House of Commons - Communities and Local Government Committee: Community Budgets - HC 163 Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Communities and Local Government Committee, 2013-10-23 Community Budgets are demonstrating their potential to deliver cheaper more integrated and more effective public services They are at risk however of being replaced after a few years if key issues are not resolved If this opportunity is missed the Committee warns that local services could come under unsustainable pressure in the face of increased demand and reduced budgets This in turn may result in more spending later on judicial and emergency health and welfare interventions The Government should send a clear message that it will assist every local authority wishing to introduce Community Budgets and to set out the specific assistance it will provide them with Furthermore the programme of pilots must not be allowed to slow progress towards wider implementation If they are to succeed public service providers and local authorities must realise investment in Community Budgets will bring them benefits Local authorities their partners and central government should therefore develop a framework for agreements on how the benefits of investment are to be shared On the Troubled Families Programme the Committee is supportive of the work being done but highlights the need for greater focus on how work with these families will continue after the programme ends in 2016 Noting that the resources available have not increased in proportion to the number of families added to the programme in June DCLG needs to monitor carefully progress and provide more resources to local authorities if necessary

Donald, Emma Wilson, Sarah Wright, 2017-02-09 The child has existed in cinema since the Lumi re Brothers filmed their babies having messy meals in Lyons but it is only quite recently that scholars have paid serious attention to her his presence on screen Scholarly discussion is now of the highest quality and of interest to anyone concerned not only with the extent to which adult cultural conversations invoke the figure of the child but also to those interested in exploring how film cultures can shift questions of agency and experience in relation to subjectivity Childhood and Nation in World Cinema recognizes that the range of films and scholarship is now sufficiently extensive to invoke the world cinema mantra of pluri vocal and pluri central attention and interpretation At the same time the importance of the child in figuring ideas of nationhood is an undiminished tic in adult cultural and social consciousness Either the child on film provokes claims on the nation or the nation claims the child Given the waning star of national film studies and the widely held and serious concerns over the status of the nation as a meaningful cultural unit the point here is not to assume some extraordinary pre social geopolitical empathy of child and political entity Rather the present collection observes how and why and whether the cinematic child is indeed aligned to concepts of modern nationhood to concerns of the State and to geo political organizational themes and precepts     Volume 7, Issue 1, Winter 2019 Journal of Law and Cyber Warfare,
