The Armed Forces Covenant in action? Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Defence Committee, 2013-07-18 A series of Ofsted inspections on Army Apprenticeships conducted in 2013 rated the overall effectiveness as good This was an improvement over the last inspection in 2009 rated as satisfactory now called requires improvement Some 28 per cent of Army recruits were less than 18 years of age Further information is needed on why the Army is so dependent on recruiting personnel under the age of 18 years compared to the other two Services and whether steps are being taken to reduce this dependency Of those recruited in 2012 35 per cent of the Army were rated at entry level 2 for literacy that of a 7 to 8 year old and 39 per cent had a literacy level of an eleven year old If as the MoD states it has to recruit personnel at whatever level of attainment is available then it should boost remedial action when recruitment entry standards are particularly low In light of changes brought about by Future Force 2020 it may be that recruiting personnel with higher levels of attainment would better meet the future needs of the Armed Forces Whilst the Committee recognises that some recruits may not be eager to take further academic exams the MoD should encourage more recruits to undertake English and Maths GCSEs which would stand them in good stead for future employment The MoD has carried out some useful pilot projects with paramedic training and should identify more

Committee,2011-07-28 This report suggests that any new performance or curriculum measures affecting schools should only be implemented after proper consultation with key stakeholders and the wider public something which didn't happen with the English Baccalaureate EBac The Committee says that the Government should also have waited until after the conclusion of the National Curriculum Review before introducing the EBac They want the Government to deliver on its promise in the

White Paper The Importance of Teaching to use performance tables to put greater emphasis on the progress of every child The report notes that certain academic subjects studied at A level are more valued by Russell Group universities than others but argues that a focus on a fairly narrow range of subjects demanding considerable curriculum time is likely to have negative consequences on the uptake of other subjects The Committee does not make recommendations on which subjects should or should not be included but rather encourages the Government to reconsider the EBac s composition when the National Curriculum Review is concluded The Government should confirm how it will monitor the attainment of children on free school meals in the EBac The report also calls for further international evidence to inform debate on the merits of the EBac evidence the inquiry received did not suggest a link in other countries between the prescribed study of certain academic subjects and improved attainment and prospects for poorer students Elsewhere the report argues that the current arrangements for certification of the EBac should be shelved as should calls for a Technical Baccalaureate to sit alongside the existing award
