New Perspectives on Gender and Translation Eleonora Federici, José Santaemilia, 2021-11-30 This collection expands the body of research on the intersection of gender and translation to highlight perspectives across different countries in Europe showcasing developments in the field from its origins in the emergence of feminist translation in Quebec over the last thirty years Building off seminal work on feminist translation by scholars in Canada in the 1980s and 1990s the book explores the evolution of the discipline in shifting translation practices and research across a range of European countries with a focus on underrepresented areas such as Malta Serbia and Poland The different chapters examine key developments such as the critical reframing of gender and identity the viewing of historical translation activity by women through the lens of ideological and political motivations and the analysis of socio political contexts where feminist or gender inspired translation has impacted translators practices The volume looks concurrently at the European context and beyond it putting the spotlight on new voices in translation and gender research in the region but also encouraging transnational dialogues on key issues in the discipline pushing the field further into new directions This book will be of particular interest to scholars in translation studies gender studies and European literature

Household Horror Marc Olivier, 2020-02-11 A scholar examines 14 everyday objects featured in horror films and how they manifest their power and speak to society s fears Take a tour of the house where a microwave killed a gremlin a typewriter made Jack a dull boy a sewing machine fashioned Carrie s prom dress and houseplants might kill you while you sleep In Household Horror Marc Olivier highlights the wonder fear and terrifying dimension of objects in horror cinema Inspired by object oriented ontology and the nonhuman turn in philosophy Olivier places objects in film on par with humans arguing for example that a sleeper sofa is as much the star of Sisters as Margot Kidder that The Exorcist is about a possessed bed and that Rosemary s Baby is a conflict between herbal shakes and prenatal vitamins Household Horror reinvigorates horror film criticism by investigating the unfathomable being of objects as seemingly benign as remotes radiators refrigerators and dining tables Olivier questions what Hitchcock s Psycho tells us about shower curtains What can we learn from Freddie Krueger s greatest accomplice the mattress Room by room Olivier considers the dark side of fourteen household objects to demonstrate how the objects in these films manifest their own power and connect with specific cultural fears and concerns Provides a lively and highly original contribution to horror studies As a work on cinema it introduces the reader to films that may be less well known to casual fans and scholars more conspicuously it returns to horror staples gleefully reanimating works that one might otherwise assume had been critically done to death Psycho The Exorcist The Shining Allan Cameron University of Auckland
