

Unit 8: Study guide – Heart, Blood Vessels, and Circulation of blood

SECTION 1 – The Heart

The heart consists of four pumps – two receive blood from the lungs, the other pumps it out into the body. The pulmonary and aortic valves prevent backflow of blood. The pulmonary and aortic valves are supported by chordae tendineae, which prevent the valves from closing too early or too late.

The four chambers of the heart have different functions. The right atrium receives blood from the venae cavae. The right ventricle pumps blood to the lungs. The left atrium receives blood from the pulmonary veins. The left ventricle pumps blood to the rest of the body. The heart is divided into two main parts: the right and left sides. The right side of the heart is called the pulmonary circuit, and the left side is called the systemic circuit.
