Life Orientation Grade 1 exemplar Paper:

Towards a holistic approach to support learners at risk of interrupted development Macalane J. Malindi, Johnnie Hay, Thabo Makhalemele, 2024-02-23 The COVID 19 pandemic and the restrictions that came with it led to unprecedented disruptions in learner development and put them at risk of poor developmental outcomes It is thus important that the extent of the disruption on their development and the support needs of learners be investigated Researching the impact of the disruption should focus on holistic development In this book the authors use multiple research approaches and methods of gathering data in their respective fields to examine the impact of the disruption and determine the support needs of learners Data gathered through the different methods are processed and findings are presented The findings have implications for both practice and future research in the fields of inclusive education learner support educational psychology movement education Life Orientation and curriculum development

Nals Gr3:english Teachers Gde , Nals Gr1:english Teachers Gde , South Africa Yearbook ,2009 Human Rights, Diversity, and National Identity Patricia E. Bromley, 2011 Fundamental world changes that simultaneously undermine a nation state s charisma and promote the rise of a supra national system have wide ranging effects upon national states within a modern global society My dissertation empirically examines the effects of social and cultural globalization on systems of mass schooling which are central institutions in every country Globally primary and secondary education initially emerged as the premier tool for nation states to create a unified national citizenry loyal to their country and socialized into a common cultural tradition I examine the extent to which this original nationalizing purpose of schooling is challenged by the increased emphases on universal human rights and diversity in civic education The analyses consist of two sections Hierarchical linear models are used to analyze a unique primary data source of 521 social science textbooks from 74 countries during the period 1970 2008 These findings show a worldwide increase in emphasis on human rights and increases in discussions of diversity in well established liberal democracies Cross national quantitative analyses are complemented by a qualitative case study of social science curricula in British Columbia BC which examines nation building within a context of strong emphasis on diversity and human rights The BC study utilizes currently approved high school citizenship education textbooks as well as older textbooks dating back to 1871 It also draws on a selection of historical documents including Ministry of Education reports curricular frameworks and high school exit exams Process wise I find the incorporation of human rights and diversity reflects macro level changes in national and global society Content wise I find four main approaches to reconciling ideas of human rights and diversity with national identity 1 framing human rights and multiculturalism as part of national identity 2 using pedagogical approaches that promote multiple perspectives and individual agency 3 celebrating social and scientific figures and accomplishments as the source of national pride and 4 drawing on exogenous sources to affirm state legitimacy This study is one of the first to theorize that civic education worldwide is moving away from a national focus and to provide empirical evidence of this trend A key implication is that educational systems are being repurposed from their original goal of constructing a unitary national citizenry to a new view emphasizing human diversity and equality in a globally interconnected world Further students are increasingly taught that the global civil society and non state actors are important and legitimate agents of social change Drum ,2009

Institutionalizing Health and Education for All Colette Chabbott,2015-04-28 Health for All and Education for All have been rallying cries for a host of international development activities for more than a quarter century Where did these global goals come from Why have the health goals seemingly advanced so much faster than those in education In this book author Colette Chabbott explores the foundational role that international development organizations and the innovations they champion have played in shaping and advancing such goals Chabbott demonstrates the importance of science and measurement in rendering some innovations more universal and compelling than others Her analysis includes in depth case studies of innovations developed at the grassroots and scaled up at the national and international levels by the International Center for Diarrheal Disease Research and by BRAC once a Bangladeshi now a major international NGO These studies all suggest that greater investment in new types of education research based in the Third World but with strong ties to research centers of international scope in the First World are likely the prerequisites for achieving better cheaper faster universal education This important book will provoke scholars students and international development practitioners to think more deeply about the cultural and scientific underpinnings of education and international development The author s careful analyses are particularly needed as the international community defines new global goals for the post 2015 era Book Features Introduces the key international organizations and movements in the field of education for development Provides a unique interpretation of the many tensions that characterize the field government vs non government organizations institutions vs actors and loose coupling between policies and action Addresses the current debate about research methods in education including quantitative indicators randomized controlled trials and case studies Identifies new activities and potential directions related to the global goals phenomenon This is that rare book one that is grounded in decades of policy experiences in the international development field yet is also theoretically motivated From the Foreword by Francisco O Ramirez Colette Chabbott brings years of development experience and exacting sociological analysis to challenge status quo understandings about the world development enterprise in this unique ambitious and important book David P Baker professor of education and sociology Penn State University and author of The Schooled Society In a masterful review of more than 50 years of global interventions aimed at achieving Education and Health for All Chabbott utilizes the best in institutional theory and comparative analysis to provide a thought provoking account of the organizational and institutional dynamics that structure shape and limit our ability to achieve some of the world s most compelling goals Karen Mundy president Comparative and International Education Society Education in the European Union: Post-2003 Member States Trevor Corner, 2015-07-30 The volume provides a comprehensive reference resource for education in the countries that joined the European Union between the signing of the Treaty of Nice to the present time Bulgaria Croatia Cyprus the Czech Republic Estonia Hungary Latvia Lithuania Malta Poland Romania Slovakia and Slovenia Many of these countries have previously been under the influence of the Soviet Union and are moving through transitional phases towards more western models The chapters in this volume written by regional experts examine the educational heritage of these countries and how these education systems evolved in response to changing national needs European agreements including the Treaty of Nice and The Bologna Process and international evaluations such as the Programme for International Student Assessment PISA The chapters on Cyprus and Malta show the very special circumstances of these two Mediterranean islands and the international influences that have underpinned their developments in education Coping and Adaptation George V.
