Extremely Loud & Incredibly Close by Jonathan Safran Foer Adam Ford, 2007

The Oxford History of the Novel in English Cyrus R. K. Patell, Deborah Lindsay Williams, 2024-03-05 The Oxford History of the Novel in English is a twelve volume series presenting a comprehensive global and up to date history of English language prose fiction written by a large international team of scholars The series is concerned with novels as a whole not just the literary novel and each volume includes chapters on the processes of production distribution and reception and on popular fiction and the fictional sub genres as well as outlining the work of major novelists movements and tendencies This book offers an account of US fiction during a period demarcated by two traumatic moments the eve of the entry of the United States into the Second World War and the onset of the Covid 19 pandemic The aftermath of the Second World War was arguably the high point of US nationalism but in the years that followed US writers would increasingly explore the possibility that US democracy was a failure both at home and abroad For so many of the writers whose work this volume explores the idea of nation became suspect as did the idea of national literature as the foundation for US writing Looking at post 1940s writing the literary historian might well chart a movement within literary cultures away from nationalism and toward what we would call cosmopolitanism a perspective that fosters conversations between the occupants of different cultural spaces and that regards difference as an opportunity to be embraced rather than a problem to be solved During this period the novel has had significant competition for the US public s attention from other forms of narrative and media film television comic books videogames and the internet and the various forms of social media that it spawned If however the novel becomes a residual form during this period it is by no means archaic The novel has been reinvigorated over the past eighty years by its encounters with both emergent forms such as film television comic books and digital media and the emergent voices typically associated with multiculturalism in the United States

Handbook of the American Novel of the Twentieth and Twenty-First Centuries Timo Müller,2017-01-11

Increasing specialization within the discipline of English and American Studies has shifted the focus of scholarly discussion toward theoretical reflection and cultural contexts These developments have benefitted the discipline in more ways than one but they have also resulted in a certain neglect of close reading As a result students and researchers interested in such material are forced to turn to scholarship from the 1960s and 1970s much of which relies on dated methodological and ideological presuppositions The handbook aims to fill this gap by providing new readings of texts that figure prominently in the literature classroom and in scholarly debate from James s The Ambassadors to McCarthy s The Road These readings do not revert naively to a time before theory Instead they distil the insights of literary and cultural theory into concise introductions to the historical background the themes the formal strategies and the reception of influential literary texts and they do so in a jargon free language accessible to readers on all levels of qualification

The 9/11 Novel Arin

Keeble,2014-06-04 This is a comprehensive study of the first decade of literary representations of 9 11 moving from Art Spiegelman s In the Shadow of No Towers 2003 to Amy Waldman s The Submission 2012 It traces the way literature has dealt with an event that continues to shape world conflict and resonate prominently in the American imagination and argues that the corpus of literary fiction discussing 9 11 is characterized by a fundamental sense of conflictedness related to the tensions between trauma or mourning and political imperatives The work offers in depth analyses of texts that have historicized 9 11 and shaped the way we understand this key moment in American and world history

Bookishness Jessica Pressman,2020-12-01 Twenty first century culture is obsessed with books In a time when many voices have joined to predict the death of print books continue to resurface in new and unexpected ways From the proliferation of shelfies to Jane Austen themed leggings and from decorative pillows printed with beloved book covers to bookwork sculptures exhibited in prestigious collections books are everywhere and are not just for reading Writers have caught up with this trend many contemporary novels depict books as central characters or fetishize paper and print thematically and formally In Bookishness Jessica Pressman examines the new status of the book as object and symbol She explores the rise of bookishness as an identity and an aesthetic strategy that proliferates from store window display to experimental writing Ranging from literature to kitsch objects stop motion animation films to book design Pressman considers the multivalent meanings of books in contemporary culture Books can represent shelter from or a weapon against the dangers of the digital they can act as memorials and express a sense of loss Examining the works of writers such as Jonathan Safran Foer Jennifer Egan Mark Z Danielewski and Leanne Shapton Pressman illuminates the status of the book as a fetish object and its significance for understanding contemporary fakery Bringing together media studies book history and literary criticism Bookishness explains how books still give meaning to our lives in a digital age

Mapping Generations of Traumatic Memory in American Narratives Dana Mihăilescu, Roxana Oltean, Mihaela Precup, 2014-06-12 This volume collects work by several European North American and Australian academics who are interested in examining the performance and transmission of post traumatic memory in the contemporary United States The contributors depart from the interpretation of trauma as a unique exceptional event that shatters all systems of representation as seen in the writing of early trauma theorists like Cathy Caruth Shoshana Felman and Dominick LaCapra Rather the chapters in this collection are in conversation with more recent readings of trauma such as Michael Rothberg's multidirectional memory 2009 the role of mediation and remediation in the dynamics of cultural memory Astrid Erll 2012 Aleida Assman 2011 and Stef Craps focus on postcolonial witnessing and its cross cultural dimension 2013 The corpus of post traumatic narratives under discussion includes fiction diaries memoirs films visual narratives and oral testimonies A complicated dialogue between various and sometimes conflicting narratives is thus generated and examined along four main lines in this volume trauma in the context of multidirectional memory the representation of trauma in autobiographical texts the dynamic of public forms of national commemoration and the problematic instantiation of 9 11 as a traumatic landmark

Metamedia Alexander Starre, 2015-08-15 Does literature need the book With electronic texts and reading devices growing increasingly popular the codex is no longer the default format of fiction Yet as Alexander Starre shows in Metamedia American literature has rediscovered the book as an artistic medium after the first e book hype in the late 1990s By fusing narrative and design a number of bibliographic writers have created reflexive fictions metamedia that invite us to read printed formats in new ways Their work challenges ingrained theories and beliefs about literary communication and its connections to technology and materiality Metamedia explores the book as a medium that matters and introduces innovative critical concepts to better grasp its narrative significance Combining sustained textual analysis with impulses from the fields of book history media studies and systems theory Starre explains the aesthetics and the cultural work of complex material fictions such as Mark Z Danielewski's House of Leaves 2000 Chip Kidd's The Cheese Monkeys 2001 Salvador Plascencia's The People of Paper 2005 Reif Larsen's The Selected Works of T. S. Spivet 2009 and Jonathan Safran Foer's Tree of Codes 2010 He also broadens his analysis beyond the genre of the novel in an extensive account of the influential literary magazine McSweeney's Quarterly Concern and its founder Dave Eggers For this millennial generation of writers and publishers the computer was never a threat to print culture but a powerful tool to make better books In careful close readings Starre puts typefaces layouts and cover designs on the map of literary criticism At the same time the book steers clear of bibliophile nostalgia and technological euphoria as it follows writers designers and publishers in the process of shaping the surprising history of literary bookmaking after digitization

Extremely Loud & Incredibly Close Jonathan Safran Foer, 2006 A new novel by the author of Everything Is Illuminated introduces Oskar Schell the nine year old son of a man killed in the World Trade Center bombing who searches the city for a lock that fits a black key his father left behind Jonathan Safran Foer emerged as one of the most original writers of his generation with his best selling debut novel Everything Is Illuminated Now with humor tenderness and awe he confronts the traumas of our recent history What he discovers is solace in that most human quality imagination Meet Oskar Schell an inventor Francophile tambourine player Shakespearean actor jeweler pacifist correspondent with Stephen Hawking and Ringo Starr He is nine years old And he is on an urgent secret search through the five boroughs of New York His mission is to find the lock that fits a mysterious key belonging to his father who died in the World Trade Center on 9/11 An inspired innocent Oskar is alternately endearing exasperating and hilarious as he careens from Central Park to Coney Island to Harlem on his search Along the way he is always dreaming up inventions to keep those he loves safe from harm What about a birdseed shirt to let you fly away What if you could actually hear everyone's heartbeat His goal is hopeful but the past speaks a loud warning in stories of those who've lost loved ones before As Oskar roams New York he encounters a motley assortment of humanity who are all survivors in their own way He befriends a 103 year old war reporter a tour guide who never leaves the Empire State Building and lovers enraptured or scorned Ultimately Oskar ends his journey where it began at his father's grave But now he is accompanied by the silent stranger who has been renting the spare room of his grandmother's apartment They are there to dig up his father's empty coffin

The Post-9/11 City in Novels Karolina Golimowska, 2016-03-10 Post 9/11 fiction reflects how the September 11 2001 attacks have influenced our concept of public space from urban behavior patterns to architecture and urban movement It also suggests a need for remapping the real and imagined spaces where we live and work Through close readings of novels from both sides of the Atlantic this analysis of the literary 21st century metropolis explores the fictional post 9/11 city as a global space not defined or contained by its physical limits

Millennial Memory Perspectives in Jewish American Fiction Heidi Schorr, 2017 Diese in englischer Sprache verfasste Dissertation fu t in den Feldern englische Literaturwissenschaft Amerikanistik Cultural Studies und Jewish American Studies Sie untersucht die Repr sentation von

Erinnerung in Werken von Jonathan Safran Foer Shalom Auslander und Nicole Krauss Mitgliedern der sogenannten third generation j disch amerikanischer SchriftstellerInnen welche um den Millenniumswechsel publizieren Der Fokus liegt auf Werken von Nicole Krauss Symbolische Charaktere und Objekte welche in Verbindung zu Erinnerung stehen werden herausgearbeitet und im Detail analysiert This work is rooted in the fields of English Literary Studies Cultural Studies and Jewish American Studies It examines memory representation in exemplary works published around the millennial change by third generation Jewish American writers Jonathan Safran Foer Shalom Auslander and Nicole Krauss The focus lies on the latter s work Symbolic characters and objects connected to memory are discerned and analyzed in detail Diseases and Disorders in Contemporary Fiction James Peacock,Tim Lustig,2013-04-17 The essays in this collection address the current preoccupation with neurological conditions and disorders in contemporary literature by British and American writers The book places these fictional treatments within a broader cultural and historical context exploring such topics as the two cultures debate the neurological turn postmodernism and the post postmodern and responses to September 11th Considering a variety of materials including mainstream literary fiction the graphic novel popular fiction autobiographical writing film and television contributors consider the contemporary dimensions of the interface between the sciences and humanities developing the debate about the post postmodern as a new humanism or a return to realism and investigating questions of form and genre and of literary continuities and discontinuities Further the essays discuss contemporary writers attempts to engage the relation between the individual and the social looking at the relation between the syndrome syndrome referring to the prevalence in contemporary literature of neurological phenomena evident at the biological level and existing work in the field of trauma studies where explanations tend to have taken a psychoanalytical form allowing for perspectives that question some of the assumptions that have marked both these fields The current literary preoccupation with neurological conditions presents us with a new and distinctive form of trauma literature one concerned less with psychoanalysis than with the physical and evolutionary status of human beings Falling After 9/11 Aimee Pozorski,2016-04-21 Falling After 9 11 investigates the connections between violence trauma and aesthetics by exploring post 9 11 figures of falling in art and literature From the perspective of trauma theory Aimee Pozorski provides close readings of figures of falling in such exemplary American texts as Don DeLillo s novel Falling Man Diane Seuss s poem Falling Man Jonathan Safran Foer s Extremely Loud and Incredibly Close Fr d ric Briegbeder s Windows on the World and Richard Drew s famous photograph of the man falling from the World Trade Center Falling After 9 11 argues that the apparent failure of these texts to register fully the trauma of the day in fact points to a larger problem in the national tradition the problem of reference of how to refer to falling in the 21st century and beyond Multimodality, Cognition, and Experimental Literature Alison Gibbons,2012-05-22 This book engages with visual and multimodal devices in twenty first century literature exploring canonical authors like Mark Z Danielewski and Jonathan Safran Foer alongside experimental fringe writers such as Steve

Tomasula to uncover an embodied textual aesthetics in the information age Bringing together multimodality and cognition in an innovative study of how readers engage with challenging literature this book makes a significant contribution to the debates surrounding multimodal design and multimodal reading Terrorism, Media, and the Ethics of Fiction Peter Schneck, Philipp Schweighauser, 2010-08-19 In his novel Mao II Don DeLillo lets his protagonist say Years ago I used to think it was possible for a novelist to alter the inner life of the culture Now bomb makers and gunmen have taken that territory They make raids on human consciousness DeLillo suggests that while the collective imagination of the past was guided by the creative order of narrative fictions our contemporary fantasies and anxieties are directed by the endless narratives of war and terror relayed by the mass media To take DeLillo s literary reflections on media terrorism and literature seriously means to engage with the ethical implications of his media critique This book departs from existing works on DeLillo not only through its focus on the function of literature as public discourse in culture but also in its decidedly transatlantic perspective Bringing together prominent DeLillo scholars in Europe and in the US it is the first critical book on DeLillo to position his work in a transatlantic context 9/11 Culture Jeffrey Melnick, 2011-09-15 9 11 Culture serves as a timely and accessible introduction to the complexities of American culture in the wake of the 9 11 attacks Gives balanced examinations of a broad catalogue of artifacts from film music photography literary fiction and other popular arts Investigates the ways that 9 11 has exerted a shaping force on a wide range of practices from the politics of femininity to the poetics of redemption Includes pedagogical material to assist understanding and teaching including film and discographies and a useful teachers preface
