some of the world's major media institutions Paradoxically as material and aesthetic manifestations of mediated centers of power they provide sites to the siteless and solidity to the immaterial The authors analyse the ways that architectural form and organization reflect different eras media technologies ideologies and relations with the public in media houses from New York and Silicon Valley to London Moscow and Beijing Mergent Company Archives Manual ,2006 Theodore E. White and the Development of Zooarchaeology in North America R. Lee Lyman,2016 Theodore E White and the Development of Zooarchaeology in North America illuminates the researcher and his lasting contribution to a field that has largely ignored him in its history The few brief histories of North American zooarchaeology suggest that Paul W Parmalee John E Guilday Elizabeth S Wing and Stanley J Olsen laid the foundation of the field Only occasionally is Theodore White 1905-77 included yet his research is instrumental for understanding the development of zooarchaeology in North America R Lee Lyman works to fill these gaps in the historical record and revisits some of White's analytical innovations from a modern perspective A comparison of publications shows that not only were White's zooarchaeological articles first in print in archaeological venues but that he was also at least initially more prolific than his contemporaries While the other founders of the field were anthropologists White was a paleontologist by training who studied long extinct animals and their evolutionary histories In working with remains of modern mammals the typical paleontological research questions were off the table simply because the animals under study were too recent And yet White demonstrated clearly that scholars could infer significant information about human behaviors and cultures Lyman presents a biography of Theodore White as a scientist and a pioneer in the emerging field of modern anthropological zooarchaeology Clearinghouse Review ,2009
