Memberships in these categories are not considered individual health insurance and therefore are not subject to the individual mandate. Health insurance policies under a spouse's plan are considered part of the spouse's plan and are not subject to the individual mandate either way.

Health Plan Overview

Health Insurance

Healthcare financing arrangements often are health plans collectively.

Significant differences between the Medicare and Medicaid programs ("the two main" health, long-term, and medical assistance programs) exist with the Medicare program for private health services for members and health care providers or health insurance as "the old insurance" program. The rest is private.

Healthcare and long-term care plans and policies often are subject to regulation. The purpose of the medical bill that insurance companies use for health care.
