Write Like a Sumerian!

Cuneiform is noted as the oldest form of writing, systems were developed in Mesopotamia as a method of communication. Cuneiform included a combination of pictographs, symbols representing entire words and phonograms (symbols representing a syllable or sound). Early Sumerian writing began as a pictographic system with simple pictures and symbols, which represented a whole word or idea. Sumerians developed pictures of objects and animals to represent the words for those objects. Over time, Sumerian Cuneiform symbols became more abstract, using lines and angles to represent words such as writing, and writing were represented with abstract symbols. This was a revolutionary development because it allowed a more sophisticated writing system to be developed. The evolution of the phonetic system of writing provided a more abstract idea, but it was not until the 3rd millennium BCE that the Sumerians developed a more sophisticated writing system. The Sumerians used a system of writing called Cuneiform. The word 'Cuneiform' comes from the Latin word 'cuneus', which means 'wedge'.
