By United States Army: Tactical Radio Operations United States Army, 2018-10-02 This field manual FM 6 02 53 Tactical Radio Operations serves as a reference document for tactical radio systems. It does not replace FMs governing combat net radios unit tactical deployment or technical manuals TMs on equipment use. It also provides doctrinal procedures and guidance for using tactical radios on the modern battlefield. This FM targets operators supervisors and planners providing a common reference for tactical radios. It provides a basic guidance and gives the system planner the necessary steps for network planning interoperability considerations and equipment capabilities.

Tactical Communications for the Digitized Battlefield Michael J. Ryan, Michael R. Frater, 2002 Traditional tactical communications systems consist of a number of separate subsystems with little interworking between them and with external sensors and weapons systems. Combat net radio CNR has provided the high mobility communications required by combat troops while trunk communications systems have provided high capacity communications between headquarters at the expense of mobility. The focus of this book is on new information age technologies that promise to offer seamless integration of real time data sharing creating a single logical network architecture to facilitate the movement of data throughout the battlespace. Because the structure of this network is constrained by the fundamental trade off between range mobility and capacity that applies to all communications systems this network is unlikely to be based on a single network technology This book presents an architecture for this network and shows how its subsystems can be integrated to form a single logical network     RF and Wireless Technologies: Know It All Bruce A.
