

The Great Gatsby Chapter Two: Student's Worksheet

1) Settings:

a) The Buchanans' glittering white palace

Now think back to the description of the Buchanan's house. Look at the ideas below and match them together.

The Buchanans' white palace	Comment
"a cheerful red and white Georgian Colonial mansion"	This appeals to our visual sense and creates the image of a scene of enchantment.
"The lawn started at the beach and ran towards the front door, jumping over sundials and brick walls."	The scene is also there to enhance Daisy's beauty and so she puts out the candles which might compete with her beauty. OR it might show how she rejects romance.
"listening to the whip and snap of the curtains and the groan of a picture on the wall. Then there was a boom as Tom ... shut the rear windows ..."	This places them firmly as part of American history. They are members of the elite and established rich who made their fortunes in previous times.
"bright rosy-coloured space";	Here we see male dominance as Tom takes control of the situation and brings the females under his control.
"They were both in white, and their dresses were rippling and fluttering as if they had just been blown back in after a short flight around the house."	This description suggests vitality and assertion – seems to mirror their owner, Tom.
"rosy-coloured porch, open towards the sunset, where four candles flickered ... She snapped them out with her fingers."	The scene is one of beauty and movement. The women are transformed into mysterious, strange and magical creatures which fascinate Nick. They appear completely passive in contrast to Tom's dominant masculinity.

b) Look at the description at the beginning of chapter 2 of the Valley of the Ashes.

Quote	Comment
The name "valley of the ashes"	Note that this is the name given to the area by Nick and it seems to be linked to the biblical phrase in Psalms; "valley of the shadow of death".
"a fantastic farm"
"ashes grow like wheat into ridges and hills and grotesque gardens"
"ash grey men" work their and this raises "an impenetrable cloud which screens their operations from your sight."
"small foul river"

Literary Reading, Cognition and Emotion Michael Burke,2010-10-18 This work seeks to chart what happens in the embodied minds of engaged readers when they read literature Despite the recent stylistic linguistic and cognitive advances that have been made in text processing methodology and practice very little is known about this cultural cognitive process and especially about the role that emotion plays Burk s theoretical and empirical study focuses on three central issues the role emotions play in a core cognitive event like literary text processing the kinds of bottom up and top down inputs most prominently involved in the literary reading process and what might be happening in the minds and bodies of engaged readers when they experience intense or heightened emotions a phenomenon sometimes labelled reader epiphany This study postulates that there is a free flow of bottom up and top down affective cognitive inputs during the engaged act of literary reading and that reading does not necessarily begin or end when our eyes apprehend the words on the page Burke argues that the literary reading human mind might best be considered both figuratively and literally not as computational or mechanical but as oceanic It's Not

"One More Thing" Anne Swenson Ticknor, Christy Howard, Mikka Overstreet, 2021-07-01 Ticknor Howard and Overstreet offer educators insights into the how to's of culturally responsive pedagogy. They build on their experiences and research of CRP to offer vignettes of literacy instruction that may be common in K-12 classrooms. These examples are offered as a way to situate how teachers may use research-based and effective literacy practices while ignoring the identities and experiences of their students. They disrupt the vignettes using theories and concepts presented in the chapter to make visible how each practice could be reimagined to integrate more culturally responsive strategies. Example lessons and activities are provided in each chapter that offer readers glimpses into CRP thinking and decision making. Guiding prompts are also included for readers to use the chapter topic and example lessons to consider ways to be more culturally responsive teachers for their students and in their local communities. The Automobile in American History and Culture Michael L.

Berger, 2001-07-30 This comprehensive reference guide reviews the literature concerning the impact of the automobile on American social, economic, and political history. Covering the complete history of the automobile to date, twelve chapters of bibliographic essays describe the important works in a series of related topics and provide broad thematic contexts. This work includes general histories of the automobile, the industry it spawned, and labor-management relations, as well as biographies of famous automotive personalities. Focusing on books concerned with various social aspects, chapters discuss such issues as the car's influence on family life, youth, women, the elderly, minorities, literature, and leisure and recreation. Berger has also included works that investigate the government's role in aiding and regulating the automobile, with sections on roads and highways, safety, and pollution. The guide concludes with an overview of reference works and periodicals in the field and a description of selected research collections. The Automobile in American History and Culture provides a resource with which to examine the entire field and its structure. Popular culture scholars and enthusiasts involved in automotive research will appreciate the extensive scope of this reference. Cross-referenced throughout, it will serve as a valuable research tool.
