an emphasis on consumer culture within films made for women By exploring a number of representative girly films including Pretty Woman Legally Blonde Maid in Manhattan The Devil Wears Prada and Sex and the City The Movie Radner proposes that rather than being post feminist as is usually assumed such films are better described as neo feminist Examining their narrative format as it revolves around the story of an ambitious unmarried woman who defines herself through consumer culture as much as through work or romance Radner argues that these films exemplify neo liberalist values rather than those of feminism As such Neo Feminist Cinema offers a new explanation as to why feminist oriented scholars and audiences who are seeking more than labels and love from their film experience have viewed recent girly films as a betrayal of second wave feminism and why on the other hand such films have proven to be so successful at the box office The Herald Dream

Richard Kradin, 2018-05-08 This monograph focuses on a systemic approach to dream interpretation and the unique importance of the initial dream The first dream reported in a psychoanalytic therapy session poignantly encapsulates the major issues that the patient brings to the treatment These dreams herald the trajectory of the treatment and can be interpreted in the service of psychodynamic diagnosis and prognosis The book melds aspects of Jungian dream analysis with neo Freudian analytic thought current neurobiological concepts and Buddhist psychology to yield a rich and powerful understanding of how dreams symbolize the multifaceted aspects of the psyche Multiple examples of initial dreams are discussed in detail with suggestions for how they can inform the analytic stance and serve as objects for analysis over the course of a treatment The Academic Sabbatical

Timothy Sibbald, Victoria Handford, 2022-04-26 The Academic Sabbatical A Voyage of Discovery is a collection of narratives that reveals how important sabbaticals are to faculty and by extension to higher education This in depth look at the diverse experiences and perspectives provides a wealth of evidence that sabbaticals are instrumental in increasing productivity in terms of research and knowledge dissemination These periods of self directed and focused work enable scholars to restore their academic energies leading to enhanced engagement with their programs graduate students and intellectual exchange among peers Although not without challenges and tensions sabbaticals help academics build stronger and deeper connections While this book stands alone in promoting the richness and potential of the sabbatical as a structural feature of the academy it is a great follow up to The Academic Gateway and Beyond the Academic Gateway which respectively discuss the tenure track and tenure experience This book is the third in the Lives in the Canadian Academic Landscape triptych Innovation in the Orthodox Christian Tradition?

Trine Stauning Willert, Lina Molokotos-Liederman, 2016-05-23 The relationship between tradition and innovation in Orthodox Christianity has often been problematic filled with tensions and contradictions starting from the Byzantine era and running through the 19th and 20th centuries For a long period of time scholars have typically assumed Greek Orthodoxy to be a static religious tradition with little room for renewal or change Although this public perception continues the immutability of the Greek Orthodox tradition has been questioned by several scholars over the past few years This book continues this line of reasoning

but brings it into the centre of contemporary discussion Presenting case studies from different periods of history up to the present day the authors trace different aspects in the development of innovation and renewal in Orthodox Christianity in the Greek speaking world and among the Diaspora
