Trans-Colonial Urban Space in Palestine Maha Samman, 2013-06-26 Taking a multidisciplinary approach to examine the dynamics of ethno national contestation and colonialism in Israel Palestine this book investigates the approaches for dealing with the colonial and post colonial urban space resituating them within the various theoretical frameworks in colonial urban studies The book uses Henry Lefebvre's three constituents of space perceived conceived and lived to analyse past and present colonial cases interactively with time It mixes the non temporal conceptual framework of analysis of colonialism using literature of previous colonial cases with the inter temporal abstract Lefebvrian concepts of space to produce an inter temporal re reading of them Israeli colonialism in the occupied areas of 1967 its contractions from Sinai and Gaza and the implications on the West Bank are analysed in detail By illustrating the transformations in colonial urban space at different temporal stages a new phase is proposed the trans colonial This provides a conceptual means to avoid the pitfalls of neo colonial and post colonial influences experienced in previous cases and the book goes on to highlight the implications of such a phase on the Palestinians It is an important contribution to studies on Middle East Politics and Urban Geography

Democratic Peace Across the Middle East Yakub Halabi,2016-05-24 From Tunisia to Egypt and from Israel to Iran the debates surrounding the concept of democracy in the Middle East are never straightforward This has been particularly evident since the events of 2009 in Iran and the uprisings across the Arab world in late 2010 and 2011 Against this backdrop Democratic Peace across the Middle East critically analyses the prospects for democracy throughout the region specifically asking whether political and social modernisation are absolute preconditions for democratic peace to take hold in the region or whether democracy without modernisation might be enough It explores the dynamics between neo patriarchy and Islam on the one hand and democratisation and modernisation on the other and also considers the prospect of the political accommodation of opposition groups Incorporating an analysis of a variety of key dynamics which affect each Middle Eastern country in turn such as tribal and sectarian identity Islamism and the structure of political party systems this book will appeal to those researching the Middle East and its patterns of rule Rethinking Statehood in Palestine Leila H.

Farsakh,2021-10-26 The quest for an inclusive and independent state has been at the center of the Palestinian national struggle for a very long time This book critically reexamines this quest by exploring the meaning of Palestinian statehood and the challenges that face alternative models to it today Rethinking Statehood in Palestine gives prominence to a young set of diverse Palestinian scholars both men and women to show how notions of citizenship sovereignty and nationhood are being currently rethought within the broader context of decolonization Bringing forth critical and multifaceted engagements with what Palestinian self determination entails within a larger regional context this groundbreaking book sets the terms of debate for the future of Palestine beyond partition The Politics of International Intervention Mandy Turner,Florian P.

Kühn,2015-09-16 This book critically explores the practices of peacebuilding and the politics of the communities experiencing intervention The contributions to this volume have a dual focus First they analyse the practices of western intervention and peacebuilding and the prejudices and politics that drive them Second they explore how communities experience and deal with this intervention as well as an understanding of how their political and economic priorities can often diverge markedly from those of the intervener This is achieved through theoretical and thematic chapters and an extensive number of in depth empirical case studies Utilising a variety of conceptual frameworks and disciplines the book seeks to understand why something so normatively desirable the pursuit of and building of peace has turned out so badly From Cambodia to Afghanistan Iraq to Mali interventions in the pursuit of peace have not achieved the results desired by the interveners But rather they have created further instability and violence The contributors to this book explore why This book will be of much interest to students academics and practitioners of peacebuilding peacekeeping international intervention statebuilding security studies and IR in general Israel and the Clash of Civilisations Jonathan Cook,2008-01-20 Journalist Jonathan Cook explores Israel s key role in persuading the Bush administration to invade Iraq as part of a plan to remake the Middle East and their joint determination to isolate Iran and prevent it from acquiring nuclear weapons that might rival Israel s own This concise and clearly argued book makes the case that Israel s desire to be the sole regional power in the Middle East neatly chimed with Bush s objectives in the war on terror Examining a host of related issues from the ethnic cleansing of Palestinians to the role of Big Oil and the demonisation of the Arab world Cook argues that the current chaos in the Middle East is the objective of the Bush administration a policy that is equally beneficial to Israel Triadic Coercion Wendy Pearlman,Boaz Atzili,2018-10-16 In the post Cold War era states increasingly find themselves in conflicts with nonstate actors Finding it difficult to fight these opponents directly many governments instead target states that harbor or aid nonstate actors using threats and punishment to coerce host states into stopping those groups Wendy Pearlman and Boaz Atzili investigate this strategy which they term triadic coercion They explain why states pursue triadic coercion evaluate the conditions under which it succeeds and demonstrate their arguments across seventy years of Israeli history This rich analysis of the Arab Israeli conflict supplemented with insights from India and Turkey yields surprising findings Traditional discussions of interstate conflict assume that the greater a state s power compared to its opponent the more successful its coercion Turning that logic on its head Pearlman and Atzili show that this strategy can be more effective against a strong host state than a weak one because host regimes need internal cohesion and institutional capacity to move against nonstate actors If triadic coercion is thus likely to fail against weak regimes why do states nevertheless employ it against them Pearlman and Atzili s investigation of Israeli decision making points to the role of strategic culture A state s system of beliefs values and institutionalized practices can encourage coercion as a necessary response even when that policy is prone to backfire A significant contribution to scholarship on deterrence asymmetric conflict and strategic culture Triadic Coercion illuminates an evolving feature of the international security landscape and interrogates assumptions that distort strategic thinking The Human Right to Dominate Nicola Perugini,Neve Gordon,2015 The Human Right to Dominate investigates the Israel Palestine conflict to account for how human rights generally conceived as a counter hegemonic instrument for righting historical injustices are increasingly being deployed to further subjugate the weak and legitimize their domination The Arms Race in the Middle East Mohammad Eslami,Alena Vysotskaya Guedes Vieira,2023-07-28 This edited volume discusses security policy and strategic policymaking in the Middle East region Due to its unique geopolitical geoeconomic and geostrategic features the Middle East region has been confronted with challenging security issues Combined with a lack of an efficient regional security regime this has led to the formation of a full fledged arms race This book draws together contributions from international experts to address the factors that have been contributing to the ongoing formation of an arms race in the Middle East as well as the impact of this phenomenon on the regional and global security environment The book is organized in three sections The first section outlines the contemporary dynamics of the arms race in the Middle East by focusing on its most recent dynamics and their implications for regional and international security The second section conducts systematic analysis of case studies of country specific drivers of the arms race The third and final section examines the role of external actors in the arms race evaluating both the responses of regional actors to external interventions as well as the implications of the arms race for extra regional countries

Hamas Paola Caridi, 2023-11-28 When the radical Islamist group Hamas was elected to lead Palestine in 2006 the Western world was shocked How had the majority of Palestinians come to support an extremist organization and how would the group's new political power affect the larger Israel Palestine conflict Italian journalist and historian Paola Caridi offers a clear eyed account of how the conditions in this war torn region led to the rise of Hamas and an unbiased look at the complex feelings that Palestinians have toward getting behind a government that supports violent resistance By breaking from the sensationalist journalism surrounding the elections Caridi is able to tell the story of a movement caught between the desire to resist its oppressor and the need to provide support for a refugee people Caridi informed by years of on the ground research and interviews with residents of Gaza and leaders of Hamas covers the history of Gaza from its golden age as a port city to the formal birth and slow militarization of Hamas This English language translation brings the reader to present day Palestine by offering a never before seen chapter on Operation Cast Lead the shocking WikiLeaks disclosures and the Cairo Revolution Hamas paints a picture with intelligence dexterity and heart of a people trapped in the most historic of political battles and reveals the strange complexities behind the controversy by explaining one of the key players in the search for peace and justice that runs through the central crisis of the Middle East today

Hamas, Jihad and Popular Legitimacy Tristan Dunning, 2016-01-29 This book investigates the many faces of Hamas and examines its ongoing evolution as a resistance organisation in the context of the Israel Palestine conflict Specifically the work interrogates Hamas interpretation reinterpretation and application of the twin concepts of muqawama resistance and jihad striving in the name of God The text frames the movement s capacity to accrue popular legitimacy through its evolving resistance discourses centred on the notion of jihad and the practical applications thereof Moving beyond the dominant security orientated approaches to Hamas the book investigates the malleable nature of both resistance and jihad including their social symbolic political and ideational applications The diverse interpretations of these concepts allow Hamas to function as a comprehensive social movement Where possible this volume attempts to privilege first order or experiential knowledge emanating from the movement itself its political representatives and the Palestinian population in general Many of these accounts were collected by the author during fieldwork in the Middle East Not only does this work present new primary data but it also investigates a variety of

The European Union's Democratization Agenda in the Mediterranean Michelle Pace, Peter Seeberg, 2013-09-13

Democracy promotion in the Middle East and North Africa MENA remains a central pillar of the foreign policy the European Union EU Rather than concentrating on the relations between the incumbent authoritarian regimes and the opposition in the relevant countries and on the degree to which these relations are affected by EU efforts at promoting democracy human rights and the rule of law an outside in approach this collection of articles inverts the focus of such relationships and attempts to look at them inside out While some contributions also emphasise the outside in axis given that this continues to be analytically rewarding the overarching thrust of this book is to provide some empirical substance for the claim that EU policy making is not unidirectional and is influenced by the perceptions and actions of its targets Thus the focus is on domestic political changes on the ground in the MENA and how they link into what the EU is attempting to achieve in the region Finally the self representation of the EU and its lack of a clear regional role is discussed This book was published as a special issue of Democratization
