Wealth and the Built Environment Emilio José García,Brenda Vale,2025-04-26 The need to address global environmental problems is urgent The United Nations 17 Sustainable Development Goals SDGs cover a wide range of global concerns from poverty hunger and gender equity to justice and climate action Concerningly the SDGs still have faith in economic growth and technological innovation as the means of fixing all global concerns including climate change What is not questioned is whether solving development and sustainability problems through economic growth for the accumulation of wealth for the few has led to many of the current unequal development and environmental problems If unfair growth and wealth accumulation have been part of the problem how can they be part of the solution The problem with the SDGs is that their fulfilment relies on wealth creation without the fundamental concomitant of wealth redistribution The one common driver of change affecting both sustainability and development that has not been included in the SDGs is wealth the central focus of this book SDG 11 sustainable cities and communities presents a further paradox unless the issue of wealth and its fair distribution is grasped Cities are the places where wealth is generated but are also places where only a minority are wealthy The wealth generated in cities leads to higher consumption of resources higher emissions and higher disparities and inequalities However any version of a sustainable future will happen in the built environment made according to current ideals like the present belief in overcoming all humanity's problems by becoming wealthier A fundamental assumption of this book is that the first step toward a fairer habitat that can be maintained with the resources available is only possible if we stop designing cities and buildings as if everyone were wealthy or had to become wealthy To achieve this goal it is essential to identify and raise awareness of the impact of wealth to question how the myths about the advantages of wealth were built where they come from what shape they take in the built environment and who benefits from them The Statesman's Yearbook 2024

Fagny,Marieke Lydia Kuijjer,2022-07-01     Radio's Second Century John Allen Hendricks,2020-03-13 Winner of the 2022 Broadcast Education Association Book Award One of the first books to examine the status of broadcasting on its one hundredth anniversary Radio s Second Century investigates both vanguard and perennial topics relevant to radio s past present and future As the radio industry enters its second century of existence it continues to be a dominant mass medium with almost total listenership saturation despite rapid technological advancements that provide alternatives for consumers Lasting influences such as on air personalities audience behavior fan relationships and localism are analyzed as well as contemporary issues including social and digital media Other essays examine the regulatory concerns that continue to exist for public radio commercial radio and community radio and discuss the hindrances and challenges posed by government regulation with an emphasis on both American and international perspectives Radio s impact on cultural hegemony through creative programming content in the areas of religion ethnic inclusivity and gender parity is also explored Taken together this volume compromises a meaningful insight into the broadcast industry s continuing power to inform and entertain listeners around the world via its oldest mass medium radio     Dismantling Race in Higher Education Jason Arday,Heidi

Safia Mirza,2018-08-31 This book reveals the roots of structural racism that limit social mobility and equality within Britain for Black and ethnicised students and academics in its inherently white Higher Education institutions It brings together both established and emerging scholars in the fields of Race and Education to explore what institutional racism in British Higher Education looks like in colour blind post race times when racism is deemed to be off the political agenda Keeping pace with our rapidly changing global universities this edited collection asks difficult and challenging questions including why black academics leave the system why the curriculum is still white how elite universities reproduce race privilege and how Black Muslim and Gypsy traveller students are disadvantaged and excluded The book also discusses why British racial equality legislation has failed to address racism and explores what the Black student movement is doing about this As the authors powerfully argue it is only by dismantling the invisible architecture of post colonial white privilege that the 21st century struggle for a truly decolonised academy can begin This collection will be essential reading for students and academics working in the fields of Education Sociology and Race     Programming and Planning in Early Childhood Settings Leonie Arthur,Bronwyn Beecher,Elizabeth Death,Susan Dockett,Sue Farmer,2017-08-07 Programming Planning in Early Childhood

Settings explores a range of approaches to curriculum and to documenting children's learning in early childhood settings. This valuable resource for early childhood education students and practitioners provides a broad view of the concepts and issues in early childhood curriculum. Chapters reflect ongoing discussions about what is meant by the terms planning and programming in the context of early childhood, what is authentic curriculum for young children and effective teaching strategies to extend young children's learning. The strong focus on sociocultural theories of learning promotes awareness of children's diverse experiences, competencies and learning styles and helps readers recognise the need for collaborative partnerships between educators, children and families in order to develop appropriate programs. Thoroughly revised and updated, this new edition shows how chapters of the text are relevant to the Australian Professional Standards for teachers and highlights connections to the school-based context. Numerous real-life examples, reflections, articles and case studies assist students to understand a variety of educational theories, philosophies and frameworks. Throughout the book, there is a focus on the processes of reflection, evaluation and ongoing improvement.

Supporting Survivors of Sexual Violence and Abuse Claire Dosdale, Emma Senior, Lynette Shotton, Katy Skarparis, 2024-05-13. This textbook provides practical guidance to enable health professionals to support survivors of sexual violence. It gives insight into the complex and wide-ranging nature and experience of sexual violence, barriers to disclosure and explores the implications for survivors, health professionals and healthcare organisations. An evidence-based resource, this book provides information, guidance and signposting for all those who might receive disclosures of sexual violence, challenging perceptions, stigma and judgement. As well as discussing disclosure of recent experiences, it takes into account that life events may trigger the re-surfacing of prior experiences. The book also operates as a practical tool, prompting professionals to reflect on their own clinical experience of dealing with disclosures of sexual violence. The chapters look at the full breadth of sexual violence and abuse, including rape and sexual assault, child sexual abuse, harassment and stalking, exploitation, trafficking, conflict situations, traditional practices and sexual violence in LGBTQAI communities. Enabling readers to develop the necessary knowledge and understanding to inform their practice, this book is a comprehensive resource for all health professionals across primary and secondary care. It is also a valuable text for those taking post-registration courses in sexual health, specialist community and public health nursing, district nursing, mental health and children's nursing, among others. Reflection sections can be used to support professional registration revalidation.
