

THE IC DRAFTS A NEW POLICY: RECOMMENDATION FOR THE ICRC

Joint statement by the ICRC and the International Committee of the Red Cross

ICRC AND ICRC POLICY ON HUMANITARIAN

PROTECTION IN ARMED CONFLICT

INTRODUCTION

After 2000 meetings by groups of experts from 140 countries, the ICRC has decided to make a new policy on humanitarian protection in armed conflict. This policy concerns the application of the "Additional Protocols" to armed conflicts, which are the main legal source of protection in such conflicts.

1.1. Introduction to the new policy

Knowledge and analysis of situations

Conflicts are often fought by one State's budget and military machine are theory. Instead the theory of a particular conflict can consist of many different theories. So, rather than defining a conflict, think of approaching it. It is up to each side to determine its own theory. The ICRC therefore recommends that governments approach their conflicts in a systematic way. This means that they must consider the following:

1.2. Identifying the parties*

Conflicts are often won or lost based on the theory of who the parties are. So, before applying the rules of war, governments must identify the parties to the conflict. This means that governments must identify all the actors involved in the conflict and determine who they are.

1.3. Protecting those not taking part*

Conflicts are fought by people who are not members of the armed forces. These people are called "civilians". However, they still have rights under international law. So, the ICRC recommends that governments take care of them. This means that governments must:

- Adhere to human rights law, always尊重和保护平民 during the conflict. This means that governments must:
- Protect civilians from attack during the conflict.
- Prevent civilians from being used as weapons.
