nos. 2001-3384 George Washington Cullum, 1891 National Bureau of Standards Miscellaneous Publication, 1934
The Labor History Reader Daniel J. Leab, 1985 The Labor History Reader celebrates the first quarter century of the premier journal in its field and provides the richest available source of contemporary thought on American labor history The result is not only a revealing look at the history of American labor but also a better understanding of our changing attitudes toward that history The list of authors in The Labor History Reader reads like an honor roll of the most distinguished labor historians in the United States The volume itself is excellent in chronological scope wide ranging in subjects treated and representative of the main currents of thought which stimulate the writing of American working class history today Maurice F Neufeld professor of labor and industrial relations Cornell University How to Read Texts Neil McCaw, 2013-09-26 Now in its second edition How to Read Texts introduces students to key critical approaches to literary texts and offers a practical introduction for students developing their own critical and close reading skills Written in a lively jargon free style it explains critical concepts approaches and ideas including Debates around critical theory The role of history and context The links between creativity and criticism The relationship between author reader and text The new edition now includes guidance on analysing a range of multi media texts including film and online media as well as the purely literary In addition to new practical examples readings exercises and checkpoints that help students to build confidence in their own critical readings of both primary and secondary texts the book now also offers guidance on writing fully formed critical essays and tips for independent research Comprehensively updated and revised throughout How to Read Texts is an indispensable guide for students making the transition to university study In Search of the Working Class Leon Fink, 1994 These nine essays by a prominent scholar in American labor history self consciously evoke the tensions between the worker as historical subject and the historian as outside observer Encompassing studies of labor culture strategy and movement building from the late nineteenth century to the present In Search of the Working Class also connects the trials of the early labor economists to the conceptual challenges facing today's academic practitioners Fink places American labor history in the broader context of American political historiography better than any other historian I can think of James R Barrett author of Work and Community in the Jungle Chicago's Packinghouse Workers 1894-1922 Telegraph Age, 1909 Biographical Register of the Officers George Cullum, George Washington Cullum, 2009-10-27 APAIS 1999: Australian public affairs information service, Oswaal ISC 10 Sample Question Papers Class 11 History For 2024 Exams (Based On The Latest CISCE/ ISC Specimen Paper) Oswaal Editorial Board, 2023-11-11 Description of the product Fresh Relevant with Latest Typologies of the Questions Score Boosting Insights with 500 Questions 1000 Concepts Insider Tips Techniques with On Tips Notes Mind Maps Mnemonics Exam Ready Practice with 10 Highly Probable SQPs History of Kalamazoo County, Michigan, 1880
APAIS 1991: Australian public affairs information service, Male Suicide and Masculinity in 19th-century

Britain Lyndsay Galpin,2022-04-07 This book shows how interpretations of suicidal motives were guided by gendered expectations of behaviour and that these expectations were constructed to create meaning and understanding for family friends and witnesses Providing an insight into how people of this era understood suicidal behaviour and motives it challenges the assertion that suicide was seen as a distinctly feminine act and that men who took their own lives were feminized as a result Instead it shows that masculinity was understood in a more nuanced way than gender binaries allow and that a man s masculinity was measured against other men Focusing on four common narrative types the love suicide the unemployed suicide the suicide of the fraudster or speculator and the suicide of the dishonoured soldier it provides historical context to modern discussions about the crisis of masculinity and rising male suicide rates It reveals that narratives around male suicides are not so different today as they were then and that our modern model of masculinity can be traced back to the 19th century
