Future Of Media Report 2008

Caroline Elizabeth Klibanoff

Future Of Media Report 2008:

The Cinema of Me Alisa Lebow, 2012 When a filmmaker makes a film with herself as a subject she is already divided as both the subject matter of the film and the subject making the film The two senses of the word are immediately in play the matter and the maker thus the two ways of being subjectified as both subject and object Subjectivity finds its filmic expression not surprisingly in very personal ways yet it is nonetheless shaped by and in relation to collective expressions of identity that can transform the cinema of me into the cinema of we Leading scholars and practitioners of first person film are brought together in this groundbreaking collection to consider the theoretical ideological and aesthetic challenges wrought by this form of filmmaking in its diverse cultural geographical and political contexts

Future for Local and Regional Media Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons. Culture, Media, and Sport Committee, 2010 The Committee decided to examine the local media landscape in the UK as it was very much aware of the challenges facing local and regional newspapers including the impact of the recession and structural changes within the industry which have resulted in a significant downturn in advertising revenues a growing number of job cuts and newspaper title closures These pressures have also had a serious impact on local commercial radio stations and regional television Traditional media platforms also face the reality of changing consumer behaviour with people increasingly using the internet as their source of information The report examines the following issues the impact on local media of recent and future developments in digital convergence media technology and changing consumer behaviour the impact of newspaper closures on independent local journalism and access to local information how to fund quality local journalism the appropriateness and effectiveness of print and electronic publishing initiatives undertaken directly by public sector bodies at the local level the role and effects of search engines and online content aggregators on local media the future of local radio and television news the desirability of changes to the regulatory framework for print and electronic local media including cross media ownership and merger regulations the opportunities and implications of BBC partnerships with local media the extent of plurality required in local media markets incentives for investment in local content opportunities for hyper local media services

European Media Stylianos Papathanassopoulos, Ralph M. Negrine, 2013-05-31 European Media provides a clear concise account of the structures dynamics and realities of the changing face of media in Europe It offers a timely and illuminating appraisal of the issues surrounding the development of new media in Europe and explores debates about the role of the media in the formation of a European public sphere and a European identity The book argues that Europe offers an ideal context for examining interactions between global regional and national media processes and its individual chapters consider the changing structure of the European media the development of new media the Europeanization of the media in the region the challenges for the content and audiences Special emphasis is given to the transformation of political communication in Europe and the alleged emergence of a European public sphere and identity European Media Structures Politics and Identity is an invaluable text for courses on media and international studies as well as courses dealing with European and national policy studies It is also helpful to students researchers and professionals in the media sector since it combines hard facts with theoretical insight The Future of Post-Human Mass Media Peter Baofu, 2009-01-14 Why should mass media be informational and accurate as much as its proponents would claim and conversely disinformational and propagandistic as much as its critics would argue Contrary to the conventional wisdom held by many since the modern era of mass media neither of the two opposing views is correct to the extent that a total analysis of media influence has yet to be adequately explored and understood Something fundamentally vital to the analysis of communication has been missing This is not to say however that the literature on media studies hitherto existing in history has been much ado about nothing on the contrary indeed much can be learned from different theoretical approaches in the field But the important point to remember here is that this book aims to show an alternative better way to understand the nature of mass media which goes beyond both the pros and cons in the literature on media influence while learning from them all If true this seminal view will alter the way of how mass media are to be understood with its enormous theoretical implications for going beyond the existing paradigms on the future of communication in a small sense and for predicting the future of open and closed societies in a large sense
