How To Check Application Status At Turfloop:

Liberation and Development Leslie Anne Hadfield, 2016-05-01 Liberation and Development Black Consciousness Community Programs in South Africa is an account of the community development programs of the Black Consciousness movement in South Africa. It covers the emergence of the movement's ideas and practices in the context of the late 1960s and early 1970s, then analyzes how activists refined their practices, mobilized resources, and influenced people through their work. The book examines this history primarily through the Black Community Programs organization and its three major projects: the yearbook Black Review, the Zanempilo Community Health Center, and the Njwaxa leatherwork factory. As opposed to better known studies of antipolitical macroeconomic initiatives, this book shows that people from the so-called global South led development in innovative ways that promised to increase social and political participation. It particularly explores the power that youth, women, and churches had in leading change in a hostile political environment. With this new perspective on a major liberation movement, Hadfield not only causes us to rethink aspects of African history but also offers lessons from the past for African societies still dealing with developmental challenges similar to those faced during apartheid. Advances in Overnutrition Research and Treatment: 2012 Edition, 2012-12-26 Advances in Overnutrition Research and Treatment 2012 Edition is a ScholarlyEditions eBook that delivers timely, authoritative, and comprehensive information about Overnutrition. between education identity formation and language in post apartheid South Africa with specific attention to higher education It does so against the backdrop of the core argument that the sector plays a critical role in shaping re producing and perpetuating sectoral class sub national and national identities which in turn in the peculiar South African setting are almost invariably analogous with the historical fault lines determined and dictated by language as a marker of ethnic and racial identity The chapters in the book grapple with the nuances related to these intersections in the understanding that higher education language policies overt and or covert largely structure institutional cultures or what has been described as curriculum in higher education institutions Together the chapters examine the roles played by higher education by language policies and by the intersections of these policies and ethnolinguistic identities in either constructing and perpetuating or deconstructing ethnolinguistic identities upon which the sector was founded The introductory chapter lays out the background to the entire book with an emphasis on the policy and practice perspectives on the intersections The middle chapters describe the so called White Universities Black Universities and Middle Man Minorities Universities The final chapter maps out future directions of the discourses on language and identity formation in South Africa s higher education

Investigating Corruption and White-collar Crime in South African Higher Education Bethuel Sibongiseni

Ngcamu, 2025-10-16 Using an interpretivist approach this qualitative volume interrogates instances of corruption and white collar crime prevalent in South African higher education institutions and suggests pathways for the proactive detection and prevention of corrupt practices Contextualizing the author s practical experiences gained in the higher education sector over the past two decades this book employs an ethnographical method to explore the complexity of university systems structures and functions that make South Africa s formerly disadvantaged universities more susceptible to corruption In the midst of highly contested divisive and highly politicized ways of reporting corruption in the media chapters provide critical analyses guided by scientific approaches robust data sets and qualitative face to face interviews to underpin the reliability of proposed policy amendments intended to detect and prevent corruption and white collar crime as well as the suggested closure of loop holes that make the sector vulnerable to and known for a high level of criminality Making a substantial contribution to broader academic debate around corruption and university management internationally this book will be of interest to researchers and postgraduate students in the field of higher education higher education management and administration and education policy and politics Policy makers in both the Global South and North are also likely to benefit from this book

AIDS in the Shadow of Biomedicine Isak Niehaus, 2018-12-15 The Bushbuckridge region of South Africa has one of the highest rates of HIV infection in the world Having first arrived in the area in the early 1990s the disease spread rapidly and by 2008 life expectancies had fallen by 12 years for men and 14 years for women Since 2005 public health facilities have increasingly offered free HAART highly active antiretroviral therapy treatment offering a degree of hope but uptake and adherence to the therapy has been sporadic and uneven Drawing on his extensive ethnographic research carried out in

Bushbuckridge over the course of 25 years Isak Niehaus reveals how the AIDS pandemic has been experienced at the village level Most significantly he shows how local cultural practices and values have shaped responses to the epidemic For example while local attitudes towards death and misfortune have contributed to the stigma around AIDS kinship structures have also facilitated the adoption and care of AIDS orphans Such practices challenge us to rethink the role played by culture in understanding and treating sickness with Niehaus showing how an appreciation of local beliefs and customs is essential to any effective strategy of AIDS treatment Overturning many of our assumptions on disease prevention the book is essential reading for practitioners as well as researchers in global health anthropology sociology epidemiology and scholars interested in public health and administration in sub Saharan Africa

Lifestyle and Epidemiology Kotsedi Daniel Monyeki, Han C.G. Kemper, 2021-10-06 Lifestyle and Epidemiology The Double Burden of Poverty and Cardiovascular Diseases in African Populations examines the profile of non communicable diseases NCDs in the rural South African population The burden of diseases in South Africa is characterized by a combination of poverty related diseases with emerging NCDs associated with urbanization industrialization and a Westernised lifestyle Chapters in this book examine the effects of poverty COVID 19 and other social factors on the prevalence of cardiovascular disease reproductive health and diabetes in rural South Africa
