Eerdmans Commentary on the Bible: Ezra and Nehemiah Lester L. Grabbe, 2019-06-18 This extract from the Eerdmans Commentary on the Bible provides Grabbe's introduction to and concise commentary on Ezra and Nehemiah. The Eerdmans Commentary on the Bible presents in nontechnical language the best of modern scholarship on each book of the Bible including the Apocrypha. Reader friendly commentary complements succinct summaries of each section of the text and will be valuable to scholars, students, and general readers. Rather than attempt a verse by verse analysis, these volumes work from larger sense units, highlighting the place of each passage within the overarching biblical story. Commentators focus on the genre of each text: parable, prophetic oracle, legal code, and so on, interpreting within the historical and literary context. The volumes also address major issues within each biblical book, including the range of possible interpretations and refer readers to the best resources for further discussions.

Social Inequality in the World of the Text Saul M. Olyan, 2011-09-14 This volume consists of fifteen of the author's essays, including two that have never been published before. The essays date to the last decade and a half and all reflect in some manner the author's ongoing interest in literary operations of classification and their social implications, particularly the production of distinctions which create social inequality in the world of the text and have the potential to generate hierarchical social relationships in contexts where biblical texts might have had an impact on real people. In these essays, the author explores themes such as gender, sexuality, purity and pollution, sanctification, death and afterlife, foreignness and disability, with particular attention to the roles distinctions such as honored/shamed, feminine/masculine, mourning/rejoicing, unclean/clean, alien/native play in creating and perpetuating social differences in texts. Rites of status change such as circumcision, shaving, purification, burial, or disinterment, sanctification and profanation of holiness are a focus of interest in a number of these essays, reflecting the author's ongoing interest in the textual representation of ritual. Most of the essays examine texts in their historical setting, but several also engage the early history of the interpretation of biblical texts, including the phenomenon of inner-biblical exegesis. The essays are divided into five sections: Rites and Social Status, Gender and Sexuality, Disability, Holiness, Purity, the Alien Death Burial Afterlife and their Metaphorical Uses The author introduces each of the sections contextualizing each essay in his larger scholarly project reflecting on its development and reception and in some cases responding to his critics
