Knowledge under Construction Daniel Ness, Stephen J. Farenga, 2007-03-26 Knowledge under Construction investigates how young children develop spatial geometric and scientific thinking skills particularly those associated with architecture Based on original research and analysis of videotapes of children s play with blocks the authors findings suggest that such play is anything but pointless Their conclusions fill in gaps in our current understanding of how children learn to think spatially and scientifically even while challenging portions of that understanding including some of Piaget s thesis about the primacy of topological space in children s learning A system of measurement developed to identify and categorize children s spontaneous behavior at play allows adults to observe patterns of behavior as children play and record the development of process skills and cognitive abilities enhancing our understanding of how children begin to learn about space and architectural relationships The book also examines the educational implications of our enhanced understanding One possible development is a new alternative way to measure cognitive abilities and development in children based on their work with blocks

Curriculum in Early Childhood Education Jennifer J. Mueller, Nancy File, 2012-01-30 Curriculum in Early Childhood Education Reexamined Rediscovered Renewed provides a critical examination of the sources aims and features of early childhood curricula Providing a theoretical and philosophical foundation for examining teaching and learning this book will provoke discussion and analysis among all readers How has theory been used to understand develop and critique curriculum Whose perspectives are dominant and whose are ignored How is diversity addressed What values are explicit and implicit The book first contextualizes the historical and research base of early childhood curriculum and then turns to discussions of various schools of theory and philosophy that have served to support curriculum development in early childhood education An examination of current curriculum frameworks is offered both from the US and abroad including discussion of the Project Approach Creative Curriculum Te Wh riki and Reggio Emilia Finally the book closes with chapters that enlarge the topic to curriculum being enacted through play and that summarize key issues while pointing out future directions for the field Offering a broad foundation for examining curriculum in early childhood readers will emerge with a stronger understanding of how theories and philosophies intersect with curriculum development

Under Construction Laurel Kendall,2001-09-30 Since the late 1960s the lives of south Koreans have been reconstructed on the shifting ground of urbanization industrialization military authoritarianism democratic reform and social liberalization Class and gender identities have been modified in relation to a changing modernity and new definitions of home and family work and leisure husband and wife Under Construction provides an illuminating portrait of south Koreans in the 1990s a decade that saw a return to civilian rule a loosening of censorship and social control and the emergence of a full blown consumer culture It shows how these changes impacted the lives of Korean men and women and the very definition of what it means to be male and female in Korea In a series of provocative essays written by Korean and Western scholars we see how Korean women and men actively engage and at times openly contest the limitations of gender Under Construction is part of a decisive turn in the anthropology of gender from its early quest for the causes of female subordination to a finely tuned analysis of the historical cultural and class based specificities of gender relations and the tension between gender as an ideological construct and as a lived experience Firmly grounded in the political and economic history of south Korea this long awaited volume fills an important gap in Korean studies and East Asia gender studies in English Contributors Nancy Abelmann Cho Haejoang Roger L Janelli Laurel Kendall June Lee So Hee Lee Seungsook Moon Dawnhee Yim     *Precedents in Conveyancing; with Dissertations on Its Law and Practice.
