Kenya Wildlife Service Training Institute:

Shoot on Sight Frederick Gooch, 2011-06-14 Rick Gooch's debut nonfiction book has exposed the illegal wildlife trade for what it is: total greed, corruption, mismanagement, and lack of education at all levels of global society at the expense of making animals that we supposedly adore and love potentially extinct. The trade is the third largest criminal money maker after Drugs and Arms trafficking, making it a multi-billion yearly industry. It highlights big business government corruption and inept enforcement involved in the illegal operations in Africa and Asia. The book records factual information that digs deep into the ongoing slaughter where many animals are killed for their ivory, some for their meat and skins and other parts that end up in Asian medication myths. It focuses on the captive trade where there are more tigers living in the USA than there is in the wild worldwide. It also gives possible solutions to many issues that need to be confronted so that the targeted animals can be given a sporting chance of survival.

Conservation and Community in Kenya Carolyn K. Lesorogol, 2022-06-06
Community-based wildlife conservation is promoted as a win-win solution for wildlife and people that protects biodiversity while improving the economic status of communities living among wildlife. This book, based on mixed-method anthropological research conducted in Samburu County, Kenya, demonstrates that counter to simple narratives promising benefits, community-based wildlife conservancies (CBCs) are complex social institutions layered on pre-existing land use practices with differential impacts for members. Through in-depth research in three communities, Carolyn K. Lesorogol explains how diverse social actors understand and operate CBCs, how benefits and costs are distributed, the gendered nature of CBCs, and how they impact cooperation and conflict in communities. Lesorogol's analysis shows that economic benefits to members are generally very limited, and while many perceive improvements in security emanating from CBCs, there is also evidence that they heighten tensions over land use as well as human-wildlife conflict. Looking toward the future, the book includes recommendations for improving the effectiveness and accountability of CBCs. Conservation and Community in Kenya: Milking the Elephant offers critical insights into the implications of the CBC model for local pastoralist livelihoods, conservation, and social relations.

Operation Cobra Jerry Bentz, 2022-09-30 At the dawn of the 21st century, poaching and the illegal ivory trade were the biggest threats to the African elephant's survival. Down to as few as 400,000 animals by 2012, the African elephant was on the path to extinction. In the wild, African rhinoceros species were in even more jeopardy. Dr. John Benson, a renowned Canadian forensic wildlife biologist, RCMP Inspector and senior strategist and trainer with INTERPOL's Wildlife Crime Unit, together with Dr. Kate Beckett, long-term colleague, romantic partner, forensic wildlife biologist, and a senior Special Agent with the United States Fish and Wildlife Service Office of Law Enforcement, were jointly invited by INTERPOL's Wildlife Crime Group to work together as advisors and trainers on a new initiative named Operation Cobra, targeting the world-wide illegal trafficking in elephant ivory and rhino horn. Operation Cobra chronicles the exploits of John Benson, Kate Beckett, and their team in East Africa and North America working with local wildlife and law enforcement agencies to take down wildlife poaching ringleaders and break up international wildlife trafficking syndicates often risking their lives and the lives of their trusted team members Dennis Bear and Anna Dupree and their two German shepherd police dogs Sydney and Nelle
