Realism in the Age of Impressionism Marnin Young, 2015-01-01 The late 1870s and early 1880s were watershed years in the history of French painting As outgoing economic and social structures were being replaced by a capitalist measured time Impressionist artists sought to create works that could be perceived in an instant capturing the sensations of rapidly transforming modern life Yet a generation of artists pushed back against these changes spearheading a short lived revival of the Realist practices that had dominated at mid century and advocating slowness in practice subject matter and beholding In this illuminating book Marnin Young looks closely at five works by Jules Bastien Lepage Gustave Caillebotte Alfred Philippe Roll Jean Francois Raffaeelli and James Ensor artists who shared a concern with painting and temporality that is all but forgotten today having been eclipsed by the ideals of Impressionism Young s highly original study situates later Realism for the first time within the larger social political and economic framework and argues for its centrality in understanding the development of modern art Impressionist Era Postcard Set Bridgeman Art Library, 2013

Postcard Monica Cure, 2018-12-18 The first full length study of a once revolutionary visual and linguistic medium Literature has died many times this book tells the story of its death by postcard Picturing the Postcard looks to this unlikely source to shed light on our collective modern day obsession with new media The postcard almost unimaginably now produced at the end of the nineteenth century the same anxieties and hopes that many people think are unique to twenty first century social media such as Facebook or Twitter It promised a newly connected social world accessible to all and threatened the breakdown of authentic social relations and even of language Arguing that new media is as much a discursive object as a material one and that it is always in dialogue with the media that came before it Monica Cure reconstructs the postcard s history through journals legal documents and sources from popular culture analyzing the postcard s representation in fiction by well known writers such as E M Forster and Edith Wharton and by more obscure writers like Anne Sedgwick and Herbert Flowerdew Writers deployed uproar over the new medium of the postcard by Anglo American cultural critics to mirror anxieties about the changing nature of the literary marketplace which included the new role of women in public life the appeal of celebrity and the loss of privacy an increasing dependence on new technologies and the rise of mass media Literature kept open the postcard s possibilities and in the process reimagined what literature could be 24 Full-Colour

Postcards in the Library Norman D Stevens, 2014-01-09 Postcards individually and collectively contain a great deal of information that can be of real value to students and researchers Postcards in the Library gives compelling reasons why libraries should take a far more active and serious interest in establishing and maintaining postcard collections and in encouraging the use of these collections It explains the nature and accessibility of existing postcard collections techniques for acquiring arranging preserving and handling collections and ways to make researchers and patrons aware of these collections Postcards in the Library asserts that in most cases existing postcard collections are a vastly underutilized scholarly resource Editor Norman D Stevens urges librarians to help change this since postcards as items for mass consumption and often with no apparent conscious literary or social purpose are a true reflection of the society in which they were produced Stevens claims that messages written on postcards may also reveal a great deal about individual and or societal attitudes and ideas Chapters in Postcards in the Library are written by librarians who manage postcard collections postcard collectors and researchers Some of the authors have undertaken major research projects that demonstrate the ways in which postcards can be used in research and that have begun to establish a standard methodology for the analysis of postcards They write about major postcard collections including the Institute of Deltiology and the Curt Teich Postcard Archives the use of postcards for scholarly research postcard conservation and preservation arrangement and organization and importance and value Postcards in the Library describes the postcard collections in a variety of libraries of different kinds and sizes and indicates very real ways in which the effective use of postcard collections can result in and contribute to substantive scholarly publications It also offers advice and suggestions on the myriad issues that libraries face in handling these ephemeral fragments of popular culture Special collections librarians postcard collectors postcard dealers and historical societies will find the information in Postcards in the Library refreshing and practical Libraries with established postcard collections or those thinking about developing postcard collections will use it as a valuable planning tool and start to finish guide

Kenneth Florey, 2016-04-29 American women s suffrage activists were fascinated with suffrage themed postcards They collected them exchanged them wrote about them used them as fundraisers and organized postcard day campaigns The cards they produced were imaginative and ideological advancing arguments for the enfranchisement of women and responding to antisuffrage broadsides Commercial publishers were also interested in suffrage cards recognizing their profit potential Their products though were reactive rather than proactive conveying stereotypes they assumed reflected public attitudes often negative towards the movement Cataloging approximately 700 examples this study examines the visual rhetoric of suffrage postcards in the context of the movement itself and as part of the general history of postcards

Neo-Impressionism and Anarchism in Fin-de-Si?e France Robyn Roslak, 2017-07-05 In Neo Impressionism and Anarchism in Fin de Si e France Robyn Roslak examines for the first time the close relationship between neo impressionist landscapes and cityscapes and the anarchist sympathies of the movement s artists She focuses in particular on paintings produced between 1886 and 1905 by Paul Signac and Maximilien Luce the neo impressionists whose fidelity to anarchism to the art of landscape and to a belief in the social potential of art was strongest Although the neo impressionists are best known for their rational and scientific technique they also heeded the era s call for art surpassing the mundane realities of everyday life By tempering their modern subjects with a decorative style they hoped to lead their viewers toward moral and social improvement Roslak s ground breaking analysis shows how the anarchist theories of Elis Reclus Pierre Kropotkin and Jean Grave both inspired and coincided with these ideals Anarchism attracted the neo impressionists because its standards for social justice were grounded like neo impressionism itself in scientific exactitude and aesthetic idealism Anarchists claimed humanity would reach its highest level of social and moral development only in the presence of a decorative variety of nature and called upon progressive thinkers to help create and maintain such environments The neo impressionists who primarily painted decorative landscapes therefore discovered in anarchism a political theory consistent with their belief that decorative harmony should be the basis for socially responsible art The Amateur Photographer ,1907 The popular illustrated journal for all photographers devoted to the interests of photography and kindred arts and sciences Annual Report - National Gallery of Art National Gallery of Art (U.S.),1973 Forthcoming Books Rose Arny,2002-02 Monet, Or, The Triumph of Impressionism Daniel Wildenstein,2006 Impressionists Post Card Book Running Press,1988-04-01 Thirty full color postcards showcase magnificent Impressionist paintings by Monet Degas Renoir and others Perfect to mail share or keep and cherish 30 postcards 100s of Free Things for Teachers Dawn Hardy,1995
