

MARK SCHEME for the May/June 2013 series

0460 GEOGRAPHY

0460/22

Paper 2, maximum raw mark 60

This mark scheme is published as an aid to teachers and candidates, to indicate the requirements of the examination. It shows the basis on which Examiners were instructed to award marks. It does not indicate the details of the discussions that took place at an Examiners' meeting before marking began, which would have considered the acceptability of alternative answers.

Mark schemes should be read in conjunction with the question paper and the Principal Examiner Report for Teachers.

Cambridge will not enter into discussions about these mark schemes.

Cambridge is publishing the mark schemes for the May/June 2013 series for most IGCSE, GCE Advanced Level and Advanced Subsidiary Level components and some Ordinary Level components.

The Experiences of Black and Minority Ethnic Academics

Kalwant Bhopal,2015-06-26 Recent research suggests that Black and minority ethnic BME academics remain underrepresented particularly at senior levels in higher education and tend to be concentrated in new post 1992 universities This book provides an original comparative study of BME academics in both the UK and the USA two different yet similar cultural and political climates considering issues of inequality difference and identity in the Academy Presenting a distinctive and engaging voice the book discusses the complexity of race gender and identity in the context of higher education an area that continues to appear to be dominated by white middle class values and perspectives Chapters offer an up to date commentary on the purpose failures and potential of research on race gender and identity and its place within contemporary education and sociology The book broadens the understanding of educational research considering both sociological and cultural discourse as well as examining racialized and gendered identities from a theoretical and analytical standpoint The book closes by offering suggestions for viable policy shifts in this area The Experiences of Black and Minority Ethnic Academics will be of key interest to researchers academics and postgraduate students in the field of education as well as sociologists wanting to learn more about black and minority academics in higher education Free Speech after 9/11 Katharine Gelber,2016-04-14 Although there has been a lot written about how counter terrorism laws impact on human rights and civil liberties most of this work has focussed on the most obvious or egregious kinds of human rights abrogation such as extended detention torture and extraordinary rendition Far less has been written about the complex ways in which Western governments have placed new and far reaching limitations on freedom of speech in this context since 9 11 This book compares three liberal democracies the United States the United Kingdom and Australia in particular showing the commonalities and similarities in what has occurred in each country and the changes in the appropriate parameters of freedom of speech in the counter terrorism context since 9 11 achieved both in policy change and the justification for that change In all three countries much speech has been criminalized in ways that were considered anachronistic or inappropriate in comparable policy areas prior to 9 11 This is particularly interesting because other works have suggested that the United States unique protection of freedom of speech in the First Amendment has prevented speech being limited in that country in ways that have been pursued in others This book shows that this kind of argument misses the detail of the policy change that has occurred and privileges a textual reading over a more comprehensive policy based understanding of the changes that have occurred The author argues that we are now living a new normal for freedom of speech within which restrictions on speech that once would have been considered aberrant overreaching and impermissible are now considered ordinary necessary and justified as long as they occur in the counter terrorism context This change is persistent and it has far reaching implications for the future of this foundational freedom Carbon Pricing John Quiggin,David Adamson,Daniel Quiggin,2014-04-25 In 2012 Australia took the major step of introducing a carbon price involving the creation of a system of emissions permits initially issued at a fixed price Carbon Pricing brings together experts instrumental in the development and operation of A Towards Low Carbon Cities in China Sun Sheng Han,Ray Green,Mark Wang,2014-09-19 This book explores the relationship between urban form and greenhouse gas emissions in China providing new insights for policy urban planning and management Drawing on the results of a four year multidisciplinary research project the book examines how factors such as urban households access to services and jobs land use mixes and provision of public transport impact on greenhouse gas emissions The authors analyse data from a wide range of sources including 4677 sample households from four major Chinese cities Beijing Shanghai Wuhan and Xi an with diverse locations urban spatial structures and population sizes The book explores residents attitudes to reducing GHG emissions and advances knowledge relating to three environmental scales cross metropolitan intra city and neighbourhood level It also contributes to debates on low carbon policy by revealing the relevance of urban planning parameters at both the macro and micro levels The book will be of interest to scholars in the areas of urban planning urban management environmental sustainability and resource utilisation as well as urban policy makers and planners who are working toward developing low carbon sustainable cities of the future
