Vernacular Border Security Nick Vaughan-Williams, 2021-06-01 Since the peak of Europe s so called 2015 migration crisis the dominant governmental response has been to turn to deterrent border security across the Mediterranean and construct border walls throughout the EU During the same timeframe EU citizens are widely represented by politicians by media sources and by opinion polls as fearing a loss of control over national and EU

borders Despite the intensification of EU border security with visibly violent effects EU citizens are portrayed as threatened majorities These dynamics beg the question Why is it that tougher deterrent border security and walling appear to have heightened rather than diminished border anxieties among EU citizens While the populist mantra of taking back control purports to speak on behalf of EU citizens little is known about how diverse EU citizens conceptualize understand and talk about the so called crisis Yet if social and cultural meanings of migration and border security are constructed intersubjectively and contested politically Weldes et al 1999 then EU citizens as well as governmental elites and people on the move are significant in shaping dominant framings of and responses to the crisis This book argues that in order to address the overarching puzzle a conceptual and methodological shift is required in the way that border security is understood a new approach is urgently required that complements top down analyses of elite governmental practices with bottom up vernacular studies of how those practices are both reproduced and contested in everyday life

Farmer field schools, gender equality, social inclusion and community empowerment Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2020-11-26 The main objective of this exercise has been to collect and analyze the experiences of Farmer field schools FFS Agro pastoralist field school APFS members graduates and practitioners in relation to gender equality social inclusion and individual and community empowerment as well as changes to these as a result of participation in an FFS APFS Furthermore the purpose of the initiative is to make farmers experiences more visible and not only demonstrate the impact of FFS APFS programs but also use these experiences in future implementations of the FFS APFS approach By identifying gaps in knowledge and opportunities achievements and challenges and best practices and lessons learned this exercise aims to provide an insight into and deeper understanding of the FFSs APFSs gender and social dimensions It offers the opportunity to reflect on this cross cutting issue to allow these aspects to be better incorporated into the broader FFS APFS discussion and its wider work The exercise also identifies the needs of FFS APFS facilitators in their work with issues of gender equality social inclusion and community empowerment and examines the relevance of related concepts and approaches and its modalities A review of the existing work on strengthening gender equality and improving access for vulnerable groups within the context of FFS APFS programs has also been conducted The exercise s main thematic areas of the exercise are gender equality and women s empowerment social inclusion and community empowerment with additional areas including nutrition related decision making and sustainable agricultural production and in some cases access to and control over natural resources

Biodiversity, Food and Nutrition Danny Hunter,Teresa Borelli,Eliot Gee,2020-04-29 This book examines the challenges and impacts of poor diets and nutrition from current food systems and the potential contribution of biodiversity and ecosystem services in addressing these problems There is a strong need for a multi level cross sectoral approach that connects food biodiversity conservation and sustainable use to address critical problems in our current food systems including malnutrition Building on research from the Biodiversity for Food and Nutrition Project BFN which aims to better link biodiversity diets and nutrition the book presents a multi country cross sectoral analysis of initiatives that have promoted local food biodiversity in four countries Brazil Kenya Turkey and Sri Lanka This book offers a comprehensive summary of the BFN Project results in each of the four countries along with lessons learned and how this work could be upscaled or applied in other regions It argues that the strategic promotion and use of food biodiversity is critical in uniting attempts to address conservation nutrition and livelihood concerns The book is structured around chapters and case studies encompassing the BFN Project with specific experiences related by partners who played key roles in the work being done in each country By offering a comparative view capable of furthering dialogue between the respective countries it is also meant to connect the individual cases for a greater than the sum of its parts effect This means consideration of how localized activities can be adapted to more countries and regions Therefore the book addresses global issues with a foot planted firmly in the grounded case study locations This book will be of great interest to policymakers practitioners and NGOs working on food and nutrition as well as students and scholars of agriculture food systems and sustainable development

Fighting for Peace in Somalia Paul D. Williams, 2018-06-14 Fighting for Peace in Somalia provides the first comprehensive analysis of the African Union Mission in Somalia AMISOM an operation deployed in 2007 to stabilize the country and defend its fledgling government from one of the world's deadliest militant organizations Harakat al Shabaab The book's two parts provide a history of the mission from its genesis in an earlier failed regional initiative in 2005 up to mid 2017 as well as an analysis of the mission's six most important challenges namely logistics security sector reform civilian protection strategic communications stabilization and developing a successful exit strategy These issues are all central to the broader debates about how to design effective peace operations in Africa and beyond AMISOM was remarkable in several respects it would become the African Union's AU largest peace operation by a considerable margin deploying over 22 000 soldiers it became the longest running mission under AU command and control outlasting the nearest contender by over seven years it also became the AU's most expensive operation at its peak costing approximately US 1 billion per year and sadly AMISOM became the AU's deadliest mission. Although often referred to as a peacekeeping operation, AMISOM's troops were given a range of daunting tasks that went well beyond the realm of peacekeeping, including VIP protection, war fighting, counterinsurgency, stabilization and state building, as well as supporting electoral processes and facilitating humanitarian assistance.

The Palgrave Handbook of Urban Development Planning in Africa Melekidzedeck Khayesi, Francis Nyongesa Wegulo, 2022-11-25. Where can one get a synthesis of research findings on urban development planning in Africa? This book addresses this gap in knowledge by distilling existing research to provide insights into theories, research designs, empirical findings and approaches on urban development planning in Africa. Starting with the overall planning culture and strategies, the book's chapters move on to specific themes such as governance, population, poverty, water, recreation, transport, agriculture, air quality and rural-urban linkages. This book reduces the prevailing risk of unnecessary duplication of research and the inadequate attention that is being given to extending research in new areas. This situation has partly been due to existing research remaining scattered in different organizations and publications and has not been subjected to critical synthesis to unearth any new developments that it contains. The book makes available research findings to be utilized in current and future urban development planning in Africa.

Oceanic Histories David Armitage, Alison Bashford, Sujit Sivasundaram, 2018. Freshly presents world history through its oceans and seas in uniquely wide-ranging original chapters by leading experts in their fields.

Peace Education Monisha Bajaj, Maria Hantzopoulos, 2016-01-28. Honorable Mention 2017 PROSE Award Education Practice. Bringing together the voices of scholars and practitioners on challenges and possibilities of implementing peace education in diverse global sites, this book addresses key questions for students seeking to deepen their understanding of the field. The book not only highlights ground-breaking and rich qualitative studies from around the globe but also analyses the limits and possibilities of peace education in diverse contexts of conflict and post-conflict societies. Contributing authors address how educators and learners can make meaning of international peace education efforts, how various forms of peace and violence interact in and around schools, and how the field of peace education has evolved and grown over the past four decades.
